

PLEASED WITH
ROOSEVELT.SAYS IT WILL BE HIS AIM TO BE PRESIDENT OF THE WHOLE PEOPLE WITHOUT REGARD TO GEOGRAPHICAL LINES OR CLASS DISTINCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—President Roosevelt walked early to the White House today from the residence of his brother-in-law, Commander Cowles, of the Navy, arriving shortly before 9:30 o'clock. Secretary Hay and Secretary Gage came almost upon his heels and saw the President for a few minutes in the Cabinet room.

The doors of the White House were closed to the public, but admission, of course, was accorded to those who desired to see the President personally, and within an hour a score of men, prominent in public life, had called to pay their respects and to extend their good wishes for a successful administration.

Among them were Senators Scott and McKim, of West Virginia; Senators Pritchard, of North Carolina; Millard, of Nebraska; and Burton, of Kansas, and Representatives Heatwole, McCleary and Stephens, of Minnesota; Gibson, of Tennessee; Livingston, of Georgia; and Dayton, of West Virginia. All were delighted with the reception accorded them.

Senators Eldridge and Scott congratulated the President upon the decision

GOVERNOR GAGE
KICKED BY HORSE

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 21.—Word comes from Boulder Creek that Governor Gage was kicked in the leg by a horse in Big Basin last night. The injury is not serious, but will necessitate confinement to bed for a day or two. A physician is attending him. The Governor was with the Big Basin Commissioners and was preparing to mount his horse for the purpose of inspecting the basin, when the accident occurred.

BOER APPEAL TO HAVE ARBITRATION.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 21.—Baron von Lynden, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, has forwarded to the Legations and members of the Council of the Court of Arbitration a copy of the Boer appeal for arbitration with a notification that he intends to bring up the appeal for consideration at the first meeting of the Council. The date of the meeting is not fixed.

RECEIVED A CHECK FOR THE INHERITANCE TAX.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 21.—Internal Revenue Collector Callister has received a check from the executors of the Marcus Daly estate for $131,407, the amount of the inheritance tax on the personal property inherited by various legatees under the will of Mr. Daly.

SUICIDE OF PROMINENT IRVINGTON WOMAN.

IRVINGTON, Sept. 21.—A sad case of carbolic acid poisoning, having the appearance of suicide, caused the death last evening of Mrs. Josie Blacow, one of the best known residents of this place, and a member of a family which has long resided here and enjoyed the esteem of its neighbors.

The exact time of the commission of the rash act is unknown. The deceased was not discovered until about 6 o'clock. At that hour she was past relief, as she had been undoubtedly dead for some hours.

The discovery of the body was made by Richard Blacow, a brother of the woman's deceased husband, who resides on a farm on the opposite side of the road from that of Mrs. Josie Blacow.

Richard Blacow's attention was called to the case by Miss Emma Blacow, a daughter of the deceased, who is a

MRS. M'KINLEY CONTINUES TO RAPIDLY IMPROVE.

CANTON, O., Sept. 21.—Mrs. McKinley was one of the first in her North Market street home to arise today. She said she had enjoyed a good sleep and that she felt better than at any time since the fatal night in Buffalo when her husband was shot. To Dr. Rixey she expressed a wish to take another drive to day.

"Mrs. McKinley is improving rapidly," said the doctor. "This matter of driving out is a solution of the problem, I think. She needs little or no medicine, but exercise and good healthy mental occupation will work a great change. I feel a high degree of confidence in her ultimate recovery and am almost certain that the dreaded collapse will not come."

"Mrs. McKinley's grief is intense. She is doing as well as could be expected, however. Too much encouragement should not be taken at this early stage regarding her."

To all outward appearances the McKinley home this morning is but one of the pretty, comfortable homes of North Market street. Canton's most desirable residence section. No guard surrounds the beautiful lawn and no doorknocker stands at the door to greet and hold in check the steady stream of callers that was wont to seek admission during the life of the late President. Within is a grief-stricken, heart-broken woman, well nigh prostrated by a bereavement such as few women have ever been called upon to bear. She is showing remarkable fortitude and her friends are encouraged to hope, but are still apprehensive. There has been no material change in her condition during the past twenty-four hours.

It is thought that Mrs. McKinley may be able to go for a short drive during the middle of the day. She will be encouraged to do so if possible. Weather conditions are favorable, and it is felt that the drive would do her good. The day is bright and much warmer.

CAPTAIN HARBER IS IN CLOSE CORNER.TRIES TO MAKE OUT A CASE AGAINST SCHLEY BUT IS WELL ROUNDED UP BY THE CROSS-
EXAMINATION OF THE ATTORNEY — READING THE LOG FROM VESSELS
ENGAGED IN THE SPANISH WAR.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Admiral Dewey observed his usual rule of promptness in calling the Schley Court of Inquiry to order at 11 o'clock today. All the members of the court were present on the minute and Admiral Schley sat with his counsel at the table set apart for them, on the left of the witness seat. The attendance of the public was somewhat larger than on yesterday.

The first witness called was Captain Harber, executive officer of the Texas during the Spanish war, who was on the stand when the court adjourned yesterday.

The Judge Advocate asked no question of him and he was immediately turned over to Mr. Raynor, of counsel for Admiral Schley, who questioned him concerning his statement made yesterday to the effect that he did not recall that there was any picket line established inside the line of blockade at Cienfuegos. A report by Schley was read to the effect that a picket line had been maintained, but the witness declined to change his statement.

A Very Poor Witness.

Asked if the Brooklyn had not, on May 24, signalled the Texas to go alongside the collier and coal, he said he did not recall anything of the kind. Mr. Raynor read the signal message as follows:

"Go alongside the collier and coal as rapidly as possible, but no amount of pressing could bring the witness to say that he remembered the incident. He had, he said, very little to do with the signalling. The same reply, practically, was made in response to questions regarding other signals. Mr. Raynor quoted several of these. One transmitted from the Texas to the Brooklyn read: "On after thought the captain thinks it unsafe to put a collier between battleships." Another from the Texas read: "Do not think it safe to collier. The two ships will surely crush her."

Captain Harber replied that he remembered there was some talk of the collier, but he could not recall what it was.

WORKMEN WERE TRUE AMERICANS.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 21.—The fifty piddlers employed at the Girard plant of the American Steel Hoop Company, who refused to work Thursday out of respect to the memory of President McKinley, were discharged last night. The employees of the plant will meet tonight and it is said will strike Monday unless the discharged workmen are reinstated.

SENATOR HANNA WILL NOT BE INTERVIEWED.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 21.—The Plaindealer says: Asked to make a brief statement as to how he regarded the policy of President Roosevelt, as far as it had been expressed, Senator Hanna said: "I am done with being interviewed for all time."

The Senator is broken up by the tragedy at Buffalo and his face shows how deeply grief has left its mark.

EASTERN WEATHER.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Temperatures at 7 a. m.—New York, Philadelphia and Washington, 54; Boston and St. Louis, 50; Chicago, 46; Minneapolis, 44; Cincinnati, 48.

Harber's Queer Statements.

Speaking of the signals observed off Cienfuegos, he said his supposition, as was that of the other officers, was that they were between the Spanish forces. Captain Harber was also questioned closely concerning the rate of speed of the fleet on the sail from Cienfuegos to Santiago on May 25th. He said the weather was fresh and the sea moderate; that it was hard for small vessels, but it was "nothing much."

He thought the Texas could have made from ten to twelve knots. Mr. Raynor had the witness read logs of the Massachusetts, the Iowa, the Brooklyn and other vessels concerning the weather at that time. Mr. Raynor read a report from Captain Higginson, saying that the weather had been "rough and squally" on the 25th. Captain Harber stated that the report of Captain Higginson was not borne out by the log-book of his ship.

Harber in Close Quarters.

"It does not correspond with the log," the witness said, and he added that having given his best recollection concerning the weather, he thought Mr. Raynor had an ulterior motive in his questions. Mr. Raynor declared that he had no such end in view.

"Then," said the witness, "I have given you my best recollection concerning the weather."

"That is what I want," responded the attorney.

"That is what I have given you," repeated the witness.

Captain Lemly objected to the examination of Captain Harber on the record of a ship which he had no part in preparing.

The court retired to consider the point.

After an absence of ten minutes the court returned, announcing its decision sustaining the objection that the witness could not be examined on the log of the Massachusetts.

Continuing his testimony, Captain Harber insisted that the weather on May 25th was not rough.

Said He Was Menaced.

He also maintained that it was his recollection as stated yesterday that the fleet was further out at night than in the daytime. When his attention was called to a contrary statement by Admiral Higginson, the witness said it was not material to him what any other man had said; that he had given his estimate and was not concerned about the statements of others.

"Then you object to having your memory refreshed?" said Mr. Raynor.

"I said nothing of the kind," replied the witness. "I am here to give my testimony and I object to be spoken to in the way you speak to me."

He also objected to Mr. Raynor's shaking his finger at him, saying he construed it as a menace.

Mr. Raynor insisted that he meant to be entirely respectful and not to menace the witness.

Council questioned the witness concerning his estimate that at night the vessels of the fleet steamed eight miles to the eastward and seven miles to the westward of the mouth of the harbor. The point was sought to be made that to make this sail of sixteen miles would require greater speed than three knots to an hour, which was testified was made, but Captain Harber maintained his position, saying he had given his best impression. Some of the log entries he considered worthless as evidence.

He May Be Wrong.

"Admiral Higginson, who preceded you on the stand," said Mr. Raynor, "testified that the blockade of Admiral Schley cruised nearer at night than day. Now do you still maintain that you did not cruise nearer at night than during the day?"

"Certainly. I gave you my estimate."

"I just want to refresh your memory."

"It doesn't refresh my memory at all."

"Is it not possible for you to be wrong?"

"I did not say anything about that. Certainly it is possible for me to be wrong. I want to state that I am here to answer questions pertaining to this testimony and not to have words made at this way, as though I had made the assertions."

Mr. Raynor announced a cross-examination.

B. Ridgely, to be Comptroller of the Currency.

NAVY.

Edward T. Hoopes, to be Assistant Paymaster in the Navy with the rank of Ensign.

DEFENDED THE NAME OF PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 21.—N. H. Leonard of this city is alleged to have said this morning that President McKinley was more of an anarchist than the man who shot him, whereupon he was knocked down by Geo. McPhee, to whom it is said the remark was addressed.

VESSEL WAS LOST.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 21.—All doubt about the fate of the steamer Hudson was removed when the steamer J. E. Ford landed here today with the body of Sherman G. Brooke, one of the Hudson's wheelmen, aboard. The body was picked up seventy-five miles from where the Hudson is supposed to have foundered last Monday in the pilot house of the wrecked craft, which was floating bottom side up.

CZOLGOSZ SEES LAWYERS.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21.—At 3:35 p. m. Czolgosz was brought from the jail to the private office of District Attorney Penny, where his counsel, Justices Lewis and Titus, were awaiting him.

BOERS FIGHT
WITH SUCCESS.KILLING ENGLISH SOLDIERS AT EVERY TURN AND ARE GOING OVER THE GROUND CAPTURED BY THE BRITISH MORE THAN A YEAR AGO.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—While Kruger and Dr. Leyds are drawing up petitions to President Roosevelt and the Czar, asking them to intervene, the fighting Boers are helping themselves in South Africa by celebrating the expiration of the period in which Lord Kitchener proclaimed they must surrender by four notable successes, killing sixty-eight officers and men, wounding sixty-three and capturing five guns and 300 men.

WAR OPENS AGAIN.

The situation is singularly like the opening of the war two years ago, the names of the same places recurring in the dispatches.

Utrecht, where Major Gough was entrapped, was the scene of a similar ambush eight months back. Action Homes, where the Boers yesterday reappeared, is eighteen miles southwest of Ladysmith, prominent in the early hostilities, and the Natal colonials are mustering for the defense of the Tugela, as when General Joubert invaded Natal in 1899.

FIGHTING GOING ON.

In Cape Colony fighting is again going on south of Stormberg, in territory traversed by raiders and their pursuers half a dozen times.

The Government's publication of these reverses causes an outburst of exasperation against the conduct of the war, not in South Africa, but by the Ministry. The great Ministerial journals accuse the Government of trying to run the war "on the cheap" by not providing Lord Kitchener with sufficient resources.

THE FAILURE.

The Times, while it has no misgivings as to the final issue, accuses the home authorities of lack of organized, sustained efforts, of a disposition to postpone military for financial consideration and of failure to grasp the moral and intellectual damage which the prolongation of the struggle inflicts upon the Empire.

Other Ministerial supporters aver that precious months which should have been spent in preparing for another campaign were wasted in electioneering and that Lord Kitchener has not been supplied with the requisites.

CZAR REVIEWS

FRENCH TROOPS.

One Hundred and Forty Thousand

Soldiers Pass Before the Russian Ruler.

BETHANY, France, Sept. 21.—The Czar, Caesar and President Loubet concluded the review of 140,000 troops on the Plain of Bethany at 1:15 P. M. The march past lasted from 10:45 A. M. to 1:10 P. M., terminating in a magnificent charge of 20,000 cavalry. The spectacle was very imposing as the infantry went by 150 files deep, with fixed bayonets.

In his speech at the luncheon which followed the review President Loubet created something of a sensation by saying:

"The Franco-Russian alliance is pledged to settlement inspired by justice and humanity."

Whether rightly or otherwise, some of his hearers took the remark to refer to affairs in South Africa.

CRESCUS WON THE GREAT STALLION RACE.

READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 21.—A beautiful sky and a track well dried out after last night's rain gave promise of a grand contest between the two champion stallions, Cresceus and The Abbott. The only thing which threatened to mar the contest was a stiff north-west breeze, which blew across the track.

Nearly 20,000 people saw the race. The entire gate receipts will be given to the West End Nursery, through the generosity of Thomas W. Lawson, who gave the purse of $20,000 for the match.

Cresceus won the first heat handsly. The Abbott broke badly in the first eighth and at one time he was fully thirteen lengths behind. Time by quarters: 0:22 1/4, 1:05, 1:38 1/4, 2:10 1/4.

The Abbott won the second heat by half a length. Time, 0:23 1/4, 1:04 1/4, 1:38, 2:08 1/4.

Cresceus won the third heat. The Abbott almost distanced. Time: 0:22, 1:04 1/4, 1:38, 2:09 1/4.

READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 21.—Cresceus won the fourth heat and the race. Time, 2:04 3/4.

INSANITY WILL BE THE PLEA.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Justices Lewis and Titus, who were assigned to defend Czolgosz, have announced that they will accept and that they will be ready to proceed with the case Monday morning.

Later Dr. Charles F. McDonald, of New York, an alienist, formerly head of the State Lunatic Asylum, was admitted to the conference, of which the District Attorney was also a party. Ten minutes later Dr. McDonald was left alone with the prisoner. Dr. McDonald was called here by the Bar Association.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Former Justices Loran L. Lewis and Robert C. Titus, of the Supreme Court, today accepted their assignment as counsel to defend Leon F. Czolgosz, indicted for murder in the first degree for killing President McKinley. They do not at present know of any reason why they will not be ready for trial next Monday morning, when District Attorney Penny moves the case for trial in Part III. of the Supreme Court, whence it was transferred today by order of Judge Edward K. Emery, in the County Court, who also appointed Carleton E. Ladd, law partner of Judge Titus to assist in the defense.

Neither Judge Lewis nor Judge Titus would discuss the subject of the defense to be interposed and both stated that they had not given the question of insanity any thought.

CITY COUNCIL FIXES THE TAX LEVY AT $1.29.

ALL THE CITY FATHERS ARE SATISFIED WITH THE FIGURES AND THE ORDINANCE IS PASSED TO PRINT WITHOUT AN OBJECTION.

The ordinance fixing the tax levy was unanimously passed to print at a meeting of the Council last night under a suspension of the rules. The levy is $1.29 on each $100. It is as follows:

"An ordinance levying a tax on all real estate and personal property in the City of Oakland for the fiscal year 1901-1902, and apportioning the same among the several funds, be it ordained by the Council of the City of Oakland, as follows:

Section 1. A tax of one ($1.00) dollar is hereby fixed and levied for the fiscal year of 1901-1902 on each and every one hundred dollars of taxable property, real and personal, within the corporate limits of the City of Oakland, and the tax so levied and the money arising therefrom shall be and is hereby set apart and apportioned among the several department funds requiring municipal expenditures for the fiscal year of 1901-1902, and herein named as follows:

"General Fund, .0527; Salary Fund, .10; Fire Fund, .194; Police Fund, .145; Street Fund, .168; Sewer Fund, .015; Park Fund, .02; Fire and Police Telegraph Fund, .025; High School Fund, .040; School Fund, .001; Library Fund, .002; Printing Fund, .0075; Street Light Fund, .1408.

Section 2. A special tax of seven cents is hereby fixed and levied for the fiscal year 1901-1902 on each and every one hundred dollars of taxable property, real and personal, within the corporate limits of the City of Oakland, and the tax so levied and the money arising therefrom shall be and is hereby apportioned to the High School Fund, to be used exclusively for the support and maintenance of the High School of the City of Oakland, pursuant to an Act of the State Legislature, approved March 15, 1901, and entitled an Act to amend Section Sixteen Hundred and Seventy of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to High Schools.

Section 3. A tax of six cents is GREAT RACING AT EMERYVILLE.

The usual large crowd was present at the Oakland Track yesterday afternoon, and the usual fine sport was offered.

The event of the day, a pacing race, mile heats, three in five, for gentlemen drivers of the Golden Gate Park Driving Club, proved to be an extended affair, seven heats being run before Duffee Mack took the event.

The driving of some of the amateurs was somewhat surprising and there seemed to be a good deal of "laying up" on the part of one or two of the participants.

A. Joseph behind the winner, Duffee Mack, made no apparent effort to win during the first three heats, then he easily captured the fourth, sixth and seventh heats.

Second money was earned by Abidine, and Imp figured as number three.

The heats of the pace were separated by a running race, and as a result the afternoon's sport lasted longer than usual, but was concluded in good time for the crowd to reach their homes before midnight.

The six furlong handicap won by Sir Hampton, 112 pounds, Russell up, was easily the finest running event on the card. Sir Hampton came from last position in the stretch, and passed under the wire a length ahead of Sir Douglas. It was one of the greatest finishes ever seen on the track.

In the second race, a seven furlong run, Bob Palmer, a six to one shot, bested the favorite, Padilla, in the last furlong. Time 1:30.

In the five furlong dash, Almoner, the even money favorite, lost to Etta H. Time 1:03.

The fourth race, a six furlong handicap was captured by Sir Hampton in a splendid burst of speed. Sir Douglas was second, and Mechanus third. Time 1:17.1-2.

The two-year-old handicap, five and a half furlongs was appropriated from the start by the two top weights, Royalty and Parizade.

Royalty, Ruiz up, ruled as favorite in the ring, but Parizade was distanced less than a length at the finish. Eva G. came in a close third. Time 1:00.1-2.

The sixth event, a six furlong selling race, was won handsily by Mike Strauss. Mike Rice captured second

BREED MANDAMUS SUIT IS RESUMED

Contra Costa Water Company Claims that the License Ordinance is Invalid.

The argument on the motion of the Contra Costa Water Company for judgment on the pleadings in their mandamus suit against City Auditor Breed to compel the latter to audit bills against the city aggregating $26,000 was made this morning before Judge Ellisworth.

Attorneys Knight, McCutcheon and Nusbaum were present for the Water Company and Attorney Guy C. Earl represented Auditor Breed.

The attorneys for the Water Company withdrew their objection to the verification of the answer by Auditor Breed in the absence of Attorney Earl and filed a demurrer to the answer, citing the statute of limitations as against the contention that the claim of the Water Company is invalid on account of the fact that no oath has been made by the Contra Costa Company as to their annual income on which the city taxation should have been based.

The demurrer reads in part as follows:

"That said answer does not, nor does any part thereof, state facts sufficient to constitute a defense herein, or show cause why a peremptory writ of mandate should not issue as prayed for in the petition and complaint herein.

"That said answer does not, nor does any part thereof, state facts sufficient to constitute a counterclaim to the petition and complaint herein.

"That the matters and things set forth in alleged separate answer and defense (pp. V thereof, pp. 33 to 36 inclusive of the answer herein) are barred by the provision of section 238, subdivision 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure of this State.

"Whereof plaintiff and petitioner prays that its demurrer be sustained, and that it take judgment in accordance with the prayer of its petition and complaint, together with costs of action."

Attorney Samuel Knight opened the argument. He held that the Auditor had placed himself in the position of holding that because the Water Company had agreed to accept a rate from the city less than that charged private individuals and corporations, the Company had violated the provisions of the charter and was therefore unable to make any claim whatever as payment for water furnished. "It is known," said Knight, "that the city of Oakland is not possessed of sufficient funds to pay its ordinary running expenses. Will counsel for the Auditor contend that because the Water Company recognized the depleted condition of the City Treasury, and offered to accept a lesser rate than was ordinarily exacted, also to accept payment for ten months' service as equivalent to that for a year, in view of these facts, will counsel contend that the Water Company is disqualified from asking for and taking any portion of the amount of indebtedness?

After dwelling at some length upon the question of the rate, the attorney turned his attention to the point raised in the answer referring to the alleged failure of the Water Company to pay a proper license, and to make oath as to its annual income as required by Ordinance 1069 regulating municipal licenses.

Attorney Knight argued that the ordinance regulating municipal licenses was invalid. He held that the tax upon the license of the water company was clearly for purposes of revenue, and that a municipality has no power to fix a tax upon any business or corporation for purposes of revenue, when the power has not been particularly conferred.

Pursuing this argument, the attorney held that there was no possible construction of the license tax upon the water company that could interpret it as a police regulation, and a number of authorities were cited to show that a municipality has no power to tax a business for other than sanitary or police regulations.

It was further argued by Attorney Knight that the ordinance had been rendered invalid by an act of the Legislature in 1901. That, therefore, the penalties imposed for disobedience of its sections were inoperative. And that accordingly, the water company could not be held liable for any infraction of its mandates, nor could the City Auditor base a refusal to audit a properly earned claim on the grounds that the claimant had not complied with its requirements.

Guy C. Earl is arguing the case this afternoon.

W. F. LYNCH DID EXCELLENT WORK

Handled the Tribune's Special Leased A. P. Wire With-out a Hitch.

W. F. Lynch, who has been the Associated Press telegraph operator in THE TRIBUNE office for the past year, leaves tonight for San Francisco, where he will take a responsible position in the main office. Mr. Parsons will succeed him in THE TRIBUNE office. Mr. Lynch is one of the best operators on the Pacific Coast.

During the trying times of the past two weeks, when Associated Press newspapers had to have prompt and accurate service, Mr. Lynch was at his post of duty from 8 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, taking messages for THE TRIBUNE during the entire time.

He took his meals during the piping times while he worked.

THE TRIBUNE was therefore able to give the quickest, most complete and accurate account of the closing incidents in President McKinley's life of any paper in Alameda county.

Mr. Lynch leaves the office with the good wishes of every member of THE TRIBUNE staff. Two bulletins which he flashed to the editor will always be remembered. They are:

"Flash—McKinley shot."

"Flash—McKinley dead; McKinley dead; President dead; President dead."

He treats his ores with his newly erected 150-ton smelter and acknowledges that he produces $5,000 per day in value. He is safe to assume that he extracts $30 per ton net profit from each ton of ore treated, or a net profit of $4,500 daily. The Shasta May Blossom Company owns the adjoining property and anticipates an flattering success. We expect to erect a smelter having a capacity of not less than 500 tons daily. Figuring on the same basis our daily net profit will be $15,000. As every day is a working day, this means an annual net profit of $5,475,000. Out this profit share in two and we have $2,737,500 annual net profit. Discount this profit 33 1/3 per cent and we have $1,825,000 annual net profit. This means a dividend of approximately $1.25 annually, on each share of the capital stock of our Company. A stockholder will pay $1.25 annually is worth at least $10. What is your chance on 1000 shares that will cost you $150 today? You may have to wait two full years. Is it worth it? Call in the morning, and we will have a good talk about it. A better proposition was never offered in California. We have interesting matter at the Bully Hill. Call in the morning, in the afternoon or in the evening.

Mr. Hanna asked whether it is practicable in times of urgency to make log entries of signals. The witness replied that it was not practicable for the person who usually made such entries to put them down at that time. It was necessary to write them out later, he said, trusting to memory. He also stated that it was possible for him to have had knowledge of signals from the Texas, as Captain Phillips usually managed a very busy mail.

"Is it," asked Mr. Hanna, "a more critical matter to coal ship in the open with a battleship on either side than with a ship on only one side?"

"Decidedly,"

Captain Parker here asked: "You did some coaling on the 27th and 28th of May?"

"On the night of the 27th and morning of the 28th."

"Did you, in the course of coaling, the collier spring a leak because of a collision with the Texas?"

"You could not tell it springing a leak. The plates were indented and in the Texas a very little water came seeping through."

"So the sea at that time was bad enough to cause these vessels to collide?"

"The inference, sir, is quite wrong. That was due to a leak which was put in between the vessels and did not notice that it was just about the armor plate. The leak consisted of square holes."

"That would have been worse in a heavier sea, and it was bad enough in that sea?"

"Experience told it was not necessary to use that sort of thing."

"By the court, what was the state of the sea when the Texas coaled on May 27, as compared with the state on the 26th?"

"The weather was smoother, somewhat, I believe, more favorable."

"This concluded Captain Parker's testimony and he was excused."

"I wish you to publish my letter stating the grand effect LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND has had on my health."

MRS. ANNA ASTON

"I was suffering to such an extent from ovarian trouble that my physician thought an operation would be necessary. Your medicine having been recommended to me, I decided to try it. After using several bottles I found that I was cured. My system was toned up and I suffered no more with my ovaries. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest boon on earth to suffering women."—MRS. ANNA ASTON, Box 13, Troy, Mo.

Ovarian trouble is serious trouble. Every woman knows this. Frequently she has ovarian trouble when she thinks she has only a "pain in the side." All at once she finds herself unable to walk. She is a sick woman. An operation, dangerous and expensive, is the usual procedure, and, at best, she can expect merely to gather together the shattered remnants of health after a tedious struggle.

Many times this is necessary and many times it is not. It is wise for every woman to be convinced that every backache and sideache, every abdominal pain, indicates something wrong, and something which will not go away itself or be driven away by hard work. It is also right for every woman to know that for every disorder of the feminine organs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the perfect treatment, that it is the medicine always safe to use and always certain to help.

When your health and perhaps your life is at stake, it is wise to pass by a remedy which holds the record for the greatest number of absolute cures of female ills and which is recognized by the profession to be the greatest medicine for women in the world, and accept something else which you know little or nothing about?

Read the records of cure in the letters like Mrs. Aston's printed regularly in this paper, and if you are sick, do not be satisfied to take a substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

$5000 REWARD We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, Mass., which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letter is not genuine or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO.

RAILROAD NEWS FROM WEST OAKLAND YARDS.

MANY FREIGHT CARS CROWD THE DEPARTMENTS — EDWARD REED IS FOREMAN OF THE WAREHOUSE—BUSINESS AT LONG WHARF.

The Southern Pacific Company is using every means in its power to prevent the yards at West Oakland from becoming blocked with loaded cars. Notwithstanding these efforts the cars are continuing to accumulate very rapidly and it looks as if there would soon be a serious congestion in the freight business.

During the last month there has been a steady accumulation of loaded freight cars in the yards, the chief reason for this being the inability of the company to handle the freight at San Francisco and other places as fast as it arrived. The number of cars held in the yards awaiting delivery in San Francisco has gradually increased until at the present time there are nearly 600 of these cars in the yards.

Yesterday morning the number of cars of all kinds in the yards approximated 1,500. Nearly all of the side tracks were filled with the stored cars. To clear the tracks and handle the incoming trains under these conditions was no small undertaking. Thus far, however, General Yardmaster George E. Cotton has been able to keep the freight moving and prevent a complete blockade.

NUMEROUS TRAINS PASS THROUGH WEST OAKLAND.

There are now more trains passing daily through West Oakland than there has been at any other time in the history of the railroad company. The incoming trains number on an average from ten to twenty a day, according to the shipments of freight that are made. Fifteen trains a day might be taken as a general average, though at times there have been more than twenty arriving in the space of twenty-four hours.

The number of outgoing trains is regulated by the available motive power. Trains are being sent out as rapidly as engines can be secured to haul them. But there are not enough engines to handle the traffic. If there were it would give employment to several additional men who would be put on as crews for engines and for the trains. As it is, all of the available engines are now being pressed into service and a number of firemen have been promoted to be engineers to handle them. This also necessitated the promotion of a number of engine wipers to the rank of firemen.

In the freight service the number of crews has been increased until there are now about thirty crews in the chain gang. A new train, called the "San Jose extra," has been put on within the last few days. This is not a regular train, but it is ordered out every evening as an extra. The train leaves for San Jose about 7:50 o'clock in the evening, carrying local freight. It returns in the morning between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock, according to delays that occur. On the return trip fruit and other freight from the coast division is carried. The train will be operated during the fruit season, or as long as there is necessity for it.

LARGE QUANTITIES OF BARLEY BEING SHIPPED.

Shipments of barley are now very heavy. The farmers have threshed their grain and are now shipping it to market as fast as it can be handled by the railroad company. Most of the barley is now being shipped to Europe on vessels that load at Long Wharf. Owing to the scarcity of box cars the railroad company is being compelled to utilize cars of all kinds to carry grain. Coal cars, stock cars and even flat cars are being utilized for this purpose. Most of the grain is being shipped from Salinas, Pajaro and Livermore valleys.

The ship Belgian King has just left for Europe with a large cargo of barley. Fruit and livestock shipments are a considerable part of the heavy freight traffic that is being done. Most of the livestock is delivered in San Francisco. The empty cars are then brought back to West Oakland to be returned to their various destinations for reloading. Usually these cars are sent out on trains called "empty stock extras." During the last few days, however, engines have been so scarce that many of these cars have had to be held at West Oakland. Many of them have been cleaned and pressed into service to carry the large amount of freight that is awaiting shipment.

Apples, pears, plums and grapes are among the principal fruits being shipped now. Tomatoes, however, are commencing to arrive in large quantities and it is expected that by next month the shipments will have become exceptionally heavy. The tomato shipments are always heavy about this time of the year.

FREIGHT BEING STORED IN ASIATIC WAREHOUSE.

The scarcity of box cars became so pronounced this week that the Railroad Company was forced to decide upon some means of relieving the situation. It was finally decided to use the large new warehouse at Long Wharf, which was constructed for storing Asiatic freight, as a store-house for the freight that is being held in the yards. The loaded cars are now being sent to Long Wharf and their freight is being stored in the warehouse. It is intended to store about 500 car loads of freight. The empty cars are being returned and put into service as fast as they are unloaded. In this way the scarcity of cars will in a measure be relieved, the stored freight, however, must be sent to San Francisco as the dealers there can arrange to handle it, so that eventually it will require 500 cars to deliver the freight. In the meantime, though, while the freight is stored, the cars can be otherwise utilized.

EDWARD REED IS NOW FOREMAN OF WAREHOUSE.

Edward Reed, who has been filling the position of night foreman on the freight transfer platform, has been promoted to foreman of the new warehouse. He took charge of the new warehouse when it was opened Thursday. He holds the position under Agent J. W. Dickinson, who has charge of all the work done at Long Wharf, in addition to his duties at the West Oakland yards. The opening of the warehouse necessitated putting on a large force of men to handle the freight that is being stored.

James Rogers has been placed in charge of the night work on the freight transfer platform in the place of Edward Reed, who was transferred to Long Wharf. Three gangs of men are employed on the platform at night to handle the freight. At this time the business done on the platform is exceptionally heavy. The number of cars worked at the platform daily now averages nearly 100. During quiet times 50 cars was considered a fair day's business. George Wright still has charge of the day force on the platform. He is assisted by men that are taken from Foreman Duffy's gang as they are needed.

BUSINESS AT LONG WHARF IS RUSHING.

Business at Long Wharf continues to be very lively, sugar lumber and coal being the principal commodities handled. Between twenty-five and thirty cars of sugar are being loaded daily. The larger cars are now being loaded with about 400,000 pounds net weight. Heretofore, before cars became so scarce, the cars were usually loaded with about 60,000 pounds.

Every berth at Long Wharf is filled with vessels that are discharging. Other vessels are lying in the stream awaiting their turn to dock and discharge their cargoes.

The Thakatta has been discharging coke, fire-brick and pig iron. The Lord Templeton has been discharging coal.

The Cambrian Hills has been discharging coke.

The Otella Pederson and the Immard are discharging cargoes of sugar. The S. G. Wilder, M. A. Caine and Martha Davis have finished discharging cargoes of sugar.

The ship Babcock is taking on barley for New York.

The schooner Helene is taking on machinery for the Hawaiian Islands.

The Bark Melange has finished discharging coke and coal and is taking on a cargo of lumber for Australia.

The Astral, the largest American steel ship afloat, is discharging ballast, preparatory to taking on a cargo of grain. Lumber shipments have been unusually heavy this week.

SMOLDERING COAL BREAKS INTO FLAME.

The large coal pile near the Round House broke into a blaze yesterday. The fire originally started about four weeks ago. The coal was then drenched with water and since that time men have been at work loading it into cars for immediate consumption. During all the time, however, the fire has been smoldering. When the top of the pile had been removed the air came in contact with the heated coal and the result was a blaze. The damage done by the fire, however, was not very great, as the coal that had been smoldering was already nearly destroyed. The flames were extinguished without much difficulty.

STORING ICE HOUSE FOR THE WINTER SEASON.

The new ice house in the passenger yards is now being filled for the winter season. Several hundred tons of ice will be put into the house. The ice comes from Boca, Nevada. This is the second time the house has been filled. It was intended to construct the house large enough so that it would hold a year's supply. The demand for ice, however, has been larger than was anticipated. The walls and roof of the house are

FIREMEN FORCED TO FIGHT FOR THEIR LIVES.

Accustomed to Danger, They Disregard Ordinary Precautions—The Story Told by a Survivor.

Fighting in the midst of flames and suffocating smoke, his life threatened by falling walls and timbers, the fireman follows his duty without thought of himself. The thrilling escapes and dramatic incidents of which the public hears are not the least of his dangers. To be roused by the alarm, to dash through all kinds of weather to the scene of disaster and to find himself after the fierce fight with the flames, drenched and chilled—these are more homely perils, but equally grave. Accustomed to danger and hardship the fireman often does not take ordinary physical precautions. This was the case with Joseph V. Watson, of Astoria, Oregon, who had a narrow escape. He tells the story himself as follows:

"In 1896 while in the fire department, frequent exposure brought on an attack of rheumatism. It grew worse and finally got so bad that I couldn't do any work. I partially lost the use of my right arm and side and suffered the horrible pains that only those who have rheumatism can feel. Part of the time I was confined to my bed. For a while I was under the care of a doctor in Seattle but he did not do me any good. He only gave me powders to soothe the pain so that I could get some sleep. I also tried massage without any relief. Then I went to our regular doctor here but he could do nothing for me. He said he thought I was slightly touched with palsy.

"Since doctors seemed unable to help me I felt discouraged. But my wife noticed Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in some paper and so we gave them a trial. This was in 1899 and two months after I began their use I was a well man. I do not need to take any medicine now and I feel like another being. I can candidly say if any person will follow the directions he will be relieved."

Mr. Watson is now engineer in charge of the Hattie, one of the many yachts that ply upon the Columbia river, as hale and hearty a man as one could wish to see, and he attributes it all to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. His address is No. 468 Irving avenue, Astoria, Oregon.

The cure of the severest cases of rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People has occurred all over the land and their power in ordinary cases is proportionately greater. These marvelous vegetable pills go directly to the seat of the trouble and exert a powerful influence in purifying and enriching the blood by eliminating poisonous elements and renewing health-giving forces. They are a specific not only for rheumatism but for all ailments arising from a disordered condition of the blood or shattered nerves, such as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions and all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold only in boxes at fifty cents a box or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

TIDAL CANAL EMPLOYEES WERE FORCED TO WORK.

The Southern Pacific shops were closed Thursday to permit the employees to take part in the memorial exercises. The employees at work on the tidal canal, which is being excavated by the Government, were not given the day off. This has caused much comment among the railroad men at West Oakland and others who have learned of it.

BASEBALL GAMES OF RAILROAD EMPLOYEES.

The shipyard baseball team defeated the boiler-makers Thursday by a score of 13 to 9. Tomorrow the machinists and the shipyard teams will cross bats at Nineteenth and Peralta streets. The game will be called at 9:30 a. m. The line-up of the machinists will be as follows:

The Pacific Coast Railway Club will meet this evening at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco. E. Speed of Tucson, Ariz., will read a paper prepared by P. H. Dudley, consulting engineer of the N. Y. C. and H. R. R., on "Rail Sections and Comparative Results Obtained on Light and Heavy Steel Rails in the Permanent Way."

John Wilson has been transferred from the round house to the machine shops.

A new salt water pump is being erected in the air compressor room of the shops. It will be used to wash boilers.

Analysis of J. F. Cutter Whisky.

In our analysis of the sample of whisky left with us by you we find the alcohol by volume to be 47.13 per cent and by weight 39.50 per cent; the extractive matter amounts to 0.85 per cent and the inorganic matter to be but the minutest of traces.

As the result of those and other tests we find the whisky to be free from all abnormal or deleterious ingredients; to be up to the standard strength, and to constitute an absolutely pure article.

DE RESZKE AND THE WAITER.

The Russian's Scholarship For This "Poor Boy With a Great Voice."

Guillaume Duchesne was a waiter at Delmonico's. He is a protégé of Edouard de Reszke. He will be a grand opera singer. For Guillaume Duchesne has been awarded the De Reszke scholarship in the Metropolitan School of Music and Vocal Art.

By adoption he is an American, by birth a Frenchman and by ancestry an Italian. Giacomo Minkowsky, the composer and head of the Metropolitan School of Music and Vocal Art, declares that Edouard de Reszke's protégé has "the lost Italian voice."

It was thought that this wonderful voice was lost. But two tenors have it, and they are old. When they die the masters had believed that voice would pass away and become a memory.

That it is restored in Duchesne will be welcome news to the music world. "The Italian voice is soft and fine. To the unaccustomed ear it is like the voice of a child. It has a quality that has been described as 'not of earth.' Artists say that with the 'lost Italian voice' passed the best there was in music. Mario had it, and Owen Meredith said in 'Aux Italiens,' 'Mario could soothe with a tender note a soul in purgatory.'"

It is such a view as this that Edouard de Reszke and his friend, Giacomo Minkowsky, claim for the waiter at Delmonico's.

When Edouard de Reszke founded the $2,000 scholarship he said: "It must go to a poor boy with a great voice."

For a year no one was found with voice promising enough to warrant the bestowal of the scholarship. Last week Mr. Minkowsky, who is still enough of a stranger in New York to find novelty in the cellar restaurants that constitute Bohemia, dropped into a Twelfth street cafe. He listened to and laughed at the impromptu program with master's superciliousness until young Duchesne sang. When he had finished Mr. Minkowsky embraced him. "The lost Italian voice! Come with me," he exclaimed.

Mr. Minkowsky cabled: "Found poor boy with great voice. Lost Italian."

De Reszke replied: "Is it possible? Joy! The scholarship is his. It must be in full paid to him on the tables at Delmonico's after this week.—New York Journal.

ADVERTISEMENTS

TO THE HOLDERS OF THE INDUSTRIAL POLICIES OF THE PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company has retired from the Industrial Insurance business, and, by a contract with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the Metropolitan has agreed to assume all the Pacific Company's outstanding Industrial policies with the consent of the holders thereof.

The Metropolitan is the largest Industrial Company in the country, being as large as all the other companies put together.

It has over $62,000,000 assets; over $8,000,000 of surplus; nearly five and a half millions of Industrial Policies in force for an insurance amounting to nearly a thousand millions of dollars.

It paid over $3,000,000 in death claims last year, and pays a claim on the average every seven minutes.

It is the most liberal Company in its treatment of Policy Holders in the whole country, or in the world.

For many years it has written more insurance annually than any other company in the world.

In purely ordinary business, aside from the Industrial, it stood No. 4 last year being preceded only by the New York Life, the Mutual and the Equitable.

The Industrial field force—Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents and Agents, of the Pacific—have for the most part joined the Metropolitan. They will call upon the policy holders and invite them to have their policies guaranteed by the Metropolitan. The Metropolitan agrees to carry out in every respect the policy contracts of the Pacific; so that the Pacific Industrial policies will now have sixty-two millions of assets behind them. New policies will not be required. The Pacific policies will be stamped with a contract of assumption by the Metropolitan.

The Industrial insurance offices of the Pacific have become the offices of the Metropolitan.

In this city the Office and Superintendent are as follows: Mr. Thomas Foster, Superintendent, Rooms 413-414 Central Bank Bldg., 14th and Broadway, Oakland, Cal.

The Metropolitan Insurance Company has established its Pacific Coast Head Office at 419 California street, San Francisco, as temporary headquarters until more commodious offices can be obtained, and from this Head Office policies will be issued and claims paid. It will be in charge of Second Vice-President Gaston and of Assistant Secretary Roberts.

JOHN R. HEGEMEN, President.
HALEY FISKE, Vice-President.
GEO. H. GASTON, 2d Vice-President.

THE NEW TAX LEVY.

It is a matter for public congratulation that the Council has been able to agree unanimously upon a tax levy for the current fiscal year. It was a difficult problem to deal with because it was a recognized and admitted fact that the revenue to be derived from a one dollar levy was wholly insufficient to meet the actual requirements for maintenance of the city government, leaving out of question everything favoring of improvements.

But the members of the Council addressed themselves to the task without regard to previous differences and have presented a levy that is probably as good as could have been devised. The annexed district has been provided with the necessary facilities for fire protection, the new library building has been provided with the necessary equipment, and the Board of Health with a detention hospital for contagious diseases, which is urgently needed. A special levy is made under the Park and Boulevard Act for reconstructing the Twelfth street dam. This improvement is an urgent necessity, and was promised by the platform of every party that figured in the last city election. The High School is guarded against the deficit which threatened it last year, and provision is made for some improvements on the streets and public squares. This looks like business.

While the total levy foots up to $1.29 on the $100, it must be borne in mind that this city has a ridiculously low assessment. On the basis of the municipal assessment of Berkeley, the assessment roll of Oakland would be fully $600,000. A dollar levy on this amount would yield a total of $600,000, whereas the $1.29 tax on the present assessed valuation is expected to yield only a total of $570,000. This shows that the tax is not heavy. It is better to have a higher assessment and a lower rate, but so long as the city is tied to the State and county assessment the reverse must be encountered if we are to have any improvements. The Council appears to have done its duty with courage and impartiality in the present instance, and its unanimity is a pleasant and healthful sign. The spirit shown reveals a purpose to do something of lasting benefit for the city.

Eastern workmen who were being imported to take the places of strikers left the train at Sacramento and refused to proceed further. This is hard on the Employers' Association of San Francisco, but is a delicate compromise to the Capital City, which we trust its residents will appreciate.

An unfortunate feature of the recent Presidential tragedy is the cyclone of poetry imitations are turning loose all over the country. A chance like this does not occur very often, and from a literary standpoint it is simply awful to see what advantage is being taken of it.

A number of Chinese viceeroys have sent in their resignations. There is not likely to be a rush of applicants for their places, for it is a sure thing that every cent in sight has been gathered in or else they would not have quit.

Kitchener says he intends to attack the Boers with several columns of cavalry. He has evidently been stirred up by those newspaper columns that have been assailing him lately.

ROUTINE WORK OF THE OAKLAND CITY COUNCIL.

Resolutions of Interest to Taxpayers Passed at Meeting Last Night.

ANTI-CHICKEN LAW DEMANDED

At a meeting of the City Council last night there were present Councilmen Bishop, Bon, Boyer, Courtney, Cuvellier, Wikson, Wallace and President Schaffer. The absentees were Dornin, Fitzgerald and Rich.

President Schaffer appointed a committee consisting of Cuvellier, Bishop and Wallace to draw up appropriate resolutions officially expressing the grief of the Council at the death of Ex-Councilman Frank R. Girard.

WILL NOT CHANGE NAME.

By a vote of six to two it was decided not to change the name of Telegraph avenue to Le Conte avenue in honor of the late scientist of the State University.

In speaking for the ordinance, Councilman Bon, its sponsor, said:

"Telegraph avenue was at one time a country road. It can be made one of the finest streets in the city. It takes its name from the fact that at one time it was lined with Telegraph poles. When it is repaired and bitumen placed upon it, it will be too fine a street to be known as Telegraph avenue. On one end of the thoroughfare is the beautiful city of Oakland, known as the Athens of the Pacific; on the other is the University of California, which, when completed according to the plans of its patroness, Mrs. Hearst, will be second to no university in the world. I think it fitting and proper that it should be changed to Le Conte avenue, so that its name would carry with it a dignity commensurate with its importance."

Courtney said that he had consulted the various business men along the street and had found them generally opposed to the change of name. Courtney thought the name should remain as it is in deference to the wishes of those residing on the avenue.

The vote on the ordinance was: Ayes—Bishop, Bon, Boyer, Cuvellier, Wikson, Wallace—6. Noes—Schaffer, Courtney—2. Absent—Dornin, Fitzgerald, Rich—3.

PROTESTS AGAINST CHICKENS.

A protest was received from Mrs. Katie Perkins of West Oakland, asking that an ordinance be introduced preventing chickens from running loose in the city limits.

Councilman Cuvellier said he would call the matter up at the next meeting of the Council. He said that Los Angeles had an ordinance to that effect, imposing a fine of $500 for its violation. Cuvellier further thought the adoption of a similar resolution would benefit this city by abating the chicken nuisance, which was altogether too common.

GOLD STREET SEWER.

A protest was presented against the resolution of intention to sewer Gold street from Thirtieth to Sherman streets. The protest was signed by John Mulalley, John L. Howard, Byron Maury, Alice L. Maury and Julia T. Moss, by her agent, W. C. Little. The proposed sewer is objected to on the ground that Gold street has recently been macadamized and if it was torn up now it would be left in a bad condition for the winter. It was further objected that the proposed sewer would benefit only two houses. The protest was set for a hearing on October 7.

The protest of the merchants against the proposed tax on their business was placed on file.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions were disposed of as follows:

Granting permission to George B. M. Gray to sewer East Twenty-eighth street and Lake avenue. Adopted.

Authorizing the Board of Public Works to re-surface with asphaltic flux East Twelfth street between First avenue and Twelfth street at a cost not to exceed $400. Adopted.

A Woman's Face.

Tells its own story. A laugh is often a lie on a woman's lips. It belies the pain which is tearing at the nerves. But the eyes have no part in the laugh. Their purple rings speak of suffering. There are lines too about the mouth which only pain can give. Many women look forward to a week of such misery each month. Three months of each year are given up to suffering. It weakens them. It ages them. It robs them of social pleasures and family joys. Can there be any excuse for such women who fail to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription? It has cured thousands of such sufferers. Cured them perfectly and permanently. It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred who give it a fair and faithful trial. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure.

"I had falling of internal organs and had to go to bed every month; had irregular monthly periods, would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. FEDERAL CHANGES ARE NOW BEING DISCUSSED.

R. M. FITZGERALD MAY BE THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CHIEF JUSTICE—POLITICS IN SAN FRANCISCO—IRISH SAID TO BE IN DANGER.

(Special to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21. —The Presidential change that has taken place at Washington will undoubtedly sooner or later create several notable transformations in Federal circles here. Those who know Roosevelt and have studied his methods and policies are satisfied that he will not attempt anything as radical as Arthur did when he stepped from second place to the President's chair, but in view of the conditions here it is inevitable that there will be many a scoring in the political program.

One does not have to look far to see the reason why this should be so. McKinley was what is known as an organization man—that is to say, he represented the machinery of the party and naturally his political favors were reciprocally bestowed where friendships had been shown to him. Roosevelt, however, is under no obligations whatever to these elements; on the contrary, many suspect that the Vice-Presidency was forced upon him with the object of side-tracking him politically, and Senator Hanna, the man who has been at the helm of the Republican national machine for the past five years, is credited with having brought the consummation about.

The present President is therefore free to dispose of his patronage where he pleases, and although he will not depart from the custom of according to the various senators and congressmen their district appointments, at the same time the personal ties that existed under McKinley's administration are no longer in evidence. All of which introductory leads up to the proposition that a subject discussed in detail in this correspondence last week—to wit, the appointment of General Barnes as Minister to Japan—presents a considerably different aspect now to what it did then.

Roosevelt may, of course, be inclined not to interfere in what was undoubtedly McKinley's plan to give the place to Barnes, but it cannot be denied that the General has lost the strongest influence that connected him prospectively with the portfolio. Not only did McKinley take the personal stand that the place should go to Barnes, but his private secretary, Cortelyou, and Secretary of State Hay were with him in the matter, thus making it like a sure thing.

Minister Buck, however, our present representative in Japan, will not relinquish his office until next Spring, and as Barnes' personal Presidential influence is now gone, Senator Chester Rowell is determined in the fight again and says that he will stick to the last. As Roosevelt will not be inclined to mix up in any factional differences on the subject, the only way to properly dispose of it will be to refer it to the entire California Congressional delegation, and as long as Senator Bard holds out for Rowell there will be a deadlock that may ultimately result in our losing the prize altogether, for the best way out of the difficulty for the President would be to give it to one of the other numerous claimants in the Eastern States.

Of course if Rowell would withdraw in Barnes' favor that would be the end of it, but as the mission pays $12,000 a year, the doctor is not disposed to do this. It will be unfortunate if California's old game of fighting with each other while somebody else carries off the turkey is played again, but judging by the way things are lined up now such an outcome is extremely impossible.

IRISH IN DANGER.

The next individual to be affected by the new order of things is Naval Officer Colonel John P. Irish. It is well known that he holds his present position by the grace of McKinley, for he is avowedly a gold Democrat, and in fact got his job that way. McKinley always considered that the work done by Irish in camping on Bryan's trail during the first campaign contributed as much to Republican success as anything else in the fight, and he repeatedly said that as long as he was in power Irish should remain on the payroll. Time and again he was urged to give the place to a Republican, notably so when the effort was made to secure it for Billy Hamilton, but he always said no, and at last it became an accepted fact that it was no use having any outside competition for that office.

Another factor, too, has always been exerted in Irish's behalf. He came from Iowa and was evidently in high standing there, for the Congressional delegation from that State has always lined up for him in his naval office fights, Congressman Hepburn being one of his most ardent champions. This influence will, of course, remain, but it is doubtful if it is sufficient to keep him where he is, for one State cannot determine any patronage but its own, and if the California delegation presents some other name as a naval officer the Iowa people will not feel like interfering.

All things considered, therefore, it looks as if Irish has a good deal in danger of losing his nice $5,000 a year job. Next on the list of those who seem to be marked for the guillotine is Joseph Spear Jr., Surveyor of the Port. Spear, like Irish, owes his place to McKinley, personally, for he has never been friendly with Senator Perkins and could not have landed where he is if he had to rely on his California pull. McKinley, however, was friendly to Spear and when the Western patronage came up for distribution wanted him to get the prize place as Collector of the Port at $7,000 a year.

Senator Perkins, however, rebelled at this. He wanted that particular job for Col. Jackson, and what is more, he got it. He, however, could not turn a deaf ear altogether to the requests of the President, so when later on McKinley suggested Spear for Surveyor of the Port, Senator Perkins said all right and let it go without further protest.

When Jackson died, it will be remembered that Spear once again attempted to capture the Collectorship and for the second time was thwarted, so it can be seen that his influences at this end of the line are by no means as strong as they should be to enable him to jog along without worrying about losing his present place. As a matter of fact, it is freely prophesied that he, too, will go when later on the situation is gone over.

ROOSEVELT'S LOCAL LINKS.

Who in California is close to the present President is a question that is naturally being asked a good deal hereabouts just now, for if Roosevelt had a personal friend here it stands to reason he would at once leap into a commanding position as regards local patronage.

As far as is known, however, Roosevelt has not even any particular acquaintances out this way. He and Senators Perkins, Bard and the present Congressmen of course know each other and are friendly, and he is also acquainted with Collector Stratton, who dined with him in New York, but none of the links are of such a personal nature as to yield any particular influence, and as far as they are concerned he will probably be guided by general developments.

There is one tie, however, that may prove a strong one. Miss Eleanor Morrow, daughter of Circuit Judge Morrow, is engaged to Lieutenant Roosevelt, the President's nephew. This has led to some personal correspondence between the Judge and the President, and although when the marital relations are established the ties will be purely family and social, it nevertheless will be a stronger connecting link than any others at present in evidence. However, as Judge Morrow is not an active politician, it may make no difference anyhow as to the Presidential influences to be exerted here.

FITZGERALD'S AMBITIONS.

And now to change the topic to State issues, where there are some developments fully as interesting as those in Federal circles. First in order of importance is one that will be more appreciated in Alameda county than elsewhere, for it relates to an Oaklander. It is that Bob Fitzgerald will probably be a candidate for Chief Justice on the Democratic ticket at the next State Convention.

Some have thought that his ambitions were directed towards the gubernatorial chair, but those closely in touch with him state that his program is based as follows: The fight between Beatty and Garoutte on the Republican side promises to be very keen, in fact, even bitter. At first the impression prevailed that Garoutte would be the programme candidate, but that is all changed now, and it is pretty well understood that the powers that be have decided to once again head the ticket with Beatty.

The reason for this switch is plain as soon as a glance is made at the gubernatorial situation. Tom Flint, Gage's most active opponent, is a Native Son; so is Garoutte, who in fact owes his present place upon the bench to the influence of that order. A story has been going the rounds, and growing as it went, that the Native Sons intended next year to stand for Flint for Governor and Garoutte for Chief Justice, and although it is absolutely certain that the order has not taken such a stand, nevertheless the association of the two names creates a danger for the Gage interests. To boom Garoutte along might mean unconsciously helping Flint, and it would be none too certain that delegates sent to the convention to whom it up for Garoutte might not also declare for Flint in the event of a close fight.

There is, therefore, admittedly, a danger by standing with Garoutte that cannot possibly exist if Beatty is backed. So judging by the gossip the present Chief Justice is the choice of the machine for the honors again next year. As Garoutte has declared that with him it is a case of "Chief Justice or nothing," the espousal of Beatty's cause shuts him out of the running unless he elects to tie up with Flint and take his chances about that end winning out, and that is the opportunity that Bob Fitzgerald thinks he sees whereby he might step in and carry off the laurels. He is a prominent Native Son, having filled all the high offices of the order, and if Garoutte is turned down by the Republicans he thinks that the Native Sons will attribute it to their organization, and will in consequence seek revenge. The Native Sons vote added to the normal Democratic strength would, according to Fitzgerald's calculation, be enough to win the day for him, so that accounts for why he is more of a judicial possibility than the gubernatorial dark horse most people have been figuring him.

OTHER AMBITIOUS ONES.

Fitzgerald is not the only Democrat, however whose name is associated with the Chief Justiceship, for during the past few days a boom has been started for John Garber who it is said would accept if the nomination came to him. Garber, like Fitzgerald, has been mentioned for the place has let his friends know that he does not want to be considered as he is well enough satisfied with his law practice which is estimated by the way at $50,000 a year.

San Francisco Democrats are evidently determined to have a nominee on the Supreme Court list this time in any event, for in addition to the proposed candidacies of Garber and Fitzgerald for Chief Justice the names of Judges Seawell, Coffey and Lawlor are being heard for Associate Justices. Ex-Judge Walter B. Cope who resigned from the Superior Bench of Santa Barbara county in order to enter the firm of Morrison & Foster, is also suggested but those who have talked with him say that he does not feel like getting into such a fight at this time.

THE REPUBLICAN END.

As for the Republicans, the impression grows that Beatty, Sweeney and Shaw will be the nominees, for although candidates galore are springing up all over the State the two first named seem to have the inside of the running. Despite all that has been said about Shaw being a sure thing from the South it is being pointed out that although Judge Clark of Los Angeles was fully as popular in his day as Shaw is now he never succeeded in getting the nomination and that perhaps after all when the show down comes Shaw may have to satisfy himself with his place on the Superior Bench for awhile longer.

The reason this new sentiment is being moulded is because of the difficulty that will be prevented of naming a Supreme Justice and the Governor from the same county at the one convention. It is hard enough to land on such office and to capture two in view of the somewhat disturbed conditions down that way many think that it cannot be done. However, as both Gage and Flint are friendly to the Shaw interests, he can pursue the even tenor of his way untroubled by the present and perchance might even land on the ticket without any particular opposition. The possibilities referred to are, however, in the air, and can be taken for what they are worth.

THE MUNICIPAL MIX-UP.

Local politics continue in a somewhat chaotic condition, for instead of straightening things out, the Republican Municipal Convention last Monday succeeded in putting more kinks in than existed before. The anti-organization elements claim that they can break the machine state unless concessions are made to their interests, and there is talk of a combination that would gather in the Ruef delegates, the few representatives of the Grand Hotel movement and perhaps even the Jesse Marks and Kelly delegates. Out in the first district, where the reformers abound, they are boldly asserting that unless C. A. Murdock, their choice for Mayor, is given the nomination they will tie up in a way that will knock the Tilden Committee, and in order to carry their point they are sowing seeds of dissatisfaction in the Lackmann and other camps, pledged to individual interests and are doing all possible damage.

At Col. Burns' headquarters the idea of losing the Convention is however pooh-poohed. So far no decision has been reached as to who is the choice of the organization for Mayor, though it looks as if it will go to either Kirkpatrick or Col. Geo. Stone. In some ways the Palace Hotel is a strong first choice, but the fear that he might not be strong enough at the polls is tilting the balance in Stone's direction. The Colonel, it is claimed, would get

TRIED TWICE.

And Proved the Proposition. "I wish to give my experience with coffee for the benefit of other people. I used coffee for several years and was a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia. The doctor told me not to use coffee or tea and put me on a light diet, and I felt better. Then I commenced to drink coffee again and had the same trouble come on. One day I told a friend about it, who said if I would stop drinking coffee altogether I would feel better, and advised me to use Postum Food Coffee in its place. I tried the Postum but did not like it, so I told him about it and he said I didn't cook it right, that is, didn't boil it enough and that I should cream instead of milk, and to make sure I would use it, he sent a package to the house. After I used that package, I would have no more coffee in the house. Now I don't know what it is to have dyspepsia and I can eat anything. I also give Postum to my two children and they are the healthiest children you could find any where. The youngest is a boy 13 months old and we have been giving him Postum for seven months, three times a day. He weighs 30 pounds, and I know that Postum is what keeps both of them so healthy. I think all people who have dyspepsia get it from coffee drinking. Yours truly, Mrs. Jno. Stringer, 23 S. Florida Ave., Atlantic City, N. J."

COURTNEY TELLS HOW THE TAX LEVY WAS MADE UP.

ALL MEMBERS CONSULTED AND THE LEVY WAS A JOINT PRODUCTION — THE CITY WILL HAVE SOMETHING TO SHOW FOR ITS MONEY.

"It need occasion no surprise that the tax levy was adopted unanimously," said Councilman Courtney last night after the Council adjourned. "While it was reported by the Finance Committee, it was in fact the result of the deliberations of the entire body of the Council. We had discussed the details freely both in Committee of the Whole and in informal conferences. Every phase of the city's financial condition was fully discussed, and all points of differences gone over. We overhauled the affairs of every department with care in the effort to find where economy could be practiced. There were individual differences of opinion, of course, but there was a general desire to get together on some common basis that all could approve. There were mutual concessions and no concealments. In consequence, when the levy was reported all the members of the Council were acquainted with its details, and no one felt that he had been ignored or aggrieved. Every member was consulted and had a voice in preparing the levy. That is why the vote was unanimous. The Mayor was consulted from time to time and would have been given an opportunity to scan the draft of the levy prior to its introduction had he not been confined to his home by illness.

"All I can say is that the Council has done the best it could under the circumstances. Our task was like trying to make five quarts of an apple. We could not do it, but we divided the money around as equitably as possible according to our collective judgment as to where it would do the most good. We had to make a general cut, and in doing this we were much embarrassed by the Auditor's estimates. He allowed the Gas Company all it asked, but cut off the water for street sprinkling, public square irrigation, sewer flushing and fire purposes without rhyme or reason. Wherever he found water mentioned in the department estimates he drew his pencil through it, but he gulped down the huge item of $59,000 for street lights alone without turning a hair.

"Now I am far from saying that the charges for street lights are excessive for the service the city is receiving, but necessity existed for cutting down expenses all along the line. We could economize in street lighting as well as in police and fire protection, and in the repair and sprinkling of the streets. What would the citizens say if there was no money in the Street Fund to pay for street sprinkling next summer? We could not excuse ourselves by pointing to the Auditor's estimate. The truth is, Mr. Breed carried his political fight against the Water Company into the Council estimates he submitted to the Council and the public. Last year the city paid $53,000 for street lights, but not a cent was paid for water. The total bill for water authorized by the Council aggregated less than $28,000. Now I believe in treating all alike and all fairly. The city should pay for its water as well as its lights, and it should not spend all its money for lighting and leave none for street sprinkling, sewer flushing and park irrigation. Apparently it is Mr. Breed's idea that the city should use water, but not pay for it. However, let that pass.

"With the small means at our disposal I think the Council has done well. At the close of the year the city will have something to show for its money. The new library building will be properly equipped. I am sorry we could not give it more money at once, but it was impossible. We were as liberal with it as possible, and will do more when we can. The city will have a small hospital which does away with the danger and expense of quarantining patients in crowded districts. We have provided the High School with ample funds for its maintenance and abated any recurrence of the humiliating experience we passed through last spring.

"The annexed district has been given the fire protection long promised it, and provision made for an extension of the Fire and Police Telegraph system. The street department has been given some money for badly needed repairs. The park fund has been allowed money to make required improvements. The Grand Army strength, and would also be friendly to both strikers and employers, while his protegee as Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee would, it is believed, put finishing touches upon his fitness. At the present writing, therefore, Col. Stone looks more like a winner than anyone else in sight.

"The impression that Phelan will run again continues to grow and it is said that there need be no speculation about it. If the nomination goes to Kirkpatrick, Phelan, however, is doing a lot of hard thinking about the new conditions he would have to face, for with the Examiner and the Rainey-Geary influence fighting him in addition to his former foes, he would have his hands full. However, it looks as if he will undoubtedly tackle it once more, if the Republican nominee should be what he considers a weak candidate.

HERE AND THERE.

Ex-Assemblyman T. W. H. Shanahan, "the tall sycamore of Shasta," has been taking in the town during the week. United States Marshal H. Z. Osborne has returned to his headquarters in the southern part of the State. While up this way he took a spin to Shasta county and visited the Dorleska mine, of which he is managing owner. It is located on the headwaters of Coffee Creek.

Senator Tom Flint is making the Palace Hotel his headquarters somewhat religiously these days. He finds that he can do more effective politics there than down San Juan way.

After this tilt between Auditor Breed and Courtney the ordinance levying a tax of $1.29 per $100, on all real and personal property within the city, and improvements in Lafayette Square and provide necessary seats to make it attractive. "The sewer fund has been given money to flush the sewers in the lower part of the city, especially in the Watts Tract. It is a fact not generally known that a great majority of the sewers in the western part of the city have not been flushed for two years. This neglect superinduces a condition dangerous to health and repugnant to decency. "When the cheese was cut as sparingly as possible to go around there was nothing left for the reconstruction of the Twelfth street dam. Not only is this an urgent necessity, but it is an improvement that was specifically promised the people of East Oakland by the platform of every party putting a ticket in the field last spring. A moral obligation rested on every member of the Council to make an effort to have the pledge carried out. Public policy and public safety demanded it, and the taxpayers of East Oakland had a just claim on the city government for the work. All recognized this, but it was absolutely impossible to do it with the money derived from the one dollar levy. Therefore we were compelled to make a special levy under the Park and Boulevard Act for the improvement of the dam. The levy of about 1 cent a complete the work, but it will nearly do it, and the additional expense can be carried over into next year. The levy will be about $28,000, while the cost will be in the neighborhood of $8,000. If necessary the work can be completed by carrying over a few thousand dollars of statutory salaries. But I think this can be avoided, and I think the city will find itself in a better condition every way at the close of the fiscal year."

CUVELLIER GIVES THANKS TO OPPONENTS.

Says the Minority Has Been Well Treated by the Majority.

COURTNEY AND BREED TALK.

At the meeting of the City Council last night the differences between the minority and majority of the Council were virtually wiped out. Councilman Cuvellier, on behalf of the minority, and Councilman Courtney on behalf of the majority, were the agencies by which the reconciliation was brought about.

After the report of the Auditing and Finance Committee upon the tax levy was read Councilman Cuvellier arose and said:

"On behalf of the minority of this Council I wish to express a few sentiments of appreciation of the manner in which the majority of the Council has treated the minority in fixing the tax levy. We were invited into the councils of the committee and given a most respectful hearing. I believe it is fitting that the minority should make a statement of its appreciation of the courtesies and fair treatment extended."

In response to this statement Councilman Courtney arose and on behalf of the majority expressed reciprocal sentiments. He said:

"I hope that in the future in the sessions of this Council there will be no reason why harmony cannot exist in this body. The city will certainly receive the benefit from harmony among the members of the Council. There is no reason why we should be split into factions warring with each other. I wish to further state that the minority has been of great assistance in preparing the ordinance relative to the tax levy. Their wisdom and suggestions have been valuable, and the committee in its report has adopted many of them."

After this exchange of pleasantries Auditor Breed got up and took exception to the recommendations of the Committee on the tax levy. He said: "The chairman of the Auditing and Finance Committee in his report has taken the occasion to criticize my estimates severely. He says I have shaved down everything except the allowance for street lighting. I wish to state that the city has a contract with the Gas Company, which if it were broken, could be made the basis of a law suit against the city. The city would be compelled to pay several times the amount now allowed for street lighting. It was not a matter of discretion with me, in making the estimate, but a matter of fact. The contract makes it a necessity that the allowance made for street lighting should stand. The rest of the slurs contained in the report are beneath my notice."

Courtney—The city is getting its light by the hour from the Gas Company. How would that effect the contract if the hours were reduced?

Breed—The Gas Company by the terms of its contract can demand a certain number of hours. There is no way for the city to avoid paying a certain amount from the Street Lighting Fund.

After this tilt between Auditor Breed and Courtney the ordinance levying a tax of $1.29 per $100, on all real and personal property within the city, and

MEDDLER TELLS OF A QUIET WEEK IN SOCIETY.

AN INTERESTING STORY OF LLOYD OSBORNE—THREE WEDDINGS DURING THE WEEK — FUTURE EVENTS ARE PLANNED.

A dull and deadly week, my dears, with everything postponed on account of the President's death and nothing of great consequence happening anyway. The whist matinee for Fabela was the first thing to go by the board, next the matinees went a-glimmering and with them several promising dinner parties and then a number of card parties and teas.

The only things that went through according to schedule were the weddings and I presume that they would have been postponed too were it not for the fact that we are not superstitious, certainly not, but one doesn't like to take any chances with so ticklish a thing as a wedding. Heaven knows matrimonial ventures are risky enough to turn out shipwrecks without taking any undue chances.

The weddings this week were all small and not important but quite pretty for all that. On Tuesday there were three at which Miss Hewitt of Third avenue and Fourteenth street, Miss Daggett of Sixth avenue and Mrs. Wallace of Franklin street were the brides.

Alameda saw two big receptions at which engagements were announced. Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dodge were the host and hostess at one of them and during the evening the engagement was announced of Miss Mabel Dodge, the oldest daughter of the house and Mr. George Innes also of Alameda. The two young people were classmates in the Alameda schools and it is an almost lifelong friendship. The families are great friends and are naturally delighted. Miss Dodge is a stunning girl, tall and of full figure—a typical Californian. She dresses stunningly, has a wealthy father, a beautiful home, and is very popular. Mr. Innes is a handsome young fellow, very tall and with fine shoulders. They will make a handsome couple. The wedding will not take place for a year, but will probably be set for early next fall.

Miss Dodge has just returned from a year's travel through the Eastern States during which time she was much feted and entertained.

The other Alameda reception was at the mansion of the Hoopers. The beautiful house was charmingly decorated and again the conversational subject of the evening was the announcement of the betrothal of the daughter of the house.

The wedding in the near future in which Oaklanders are chiefly interested is the marriage on October 5th of Miss Ida Belle Palmer and Mr. George Wheaton. It will be quite a large wedding, and 125 guests are to be invited. Miss Palmer's trousseau is already well under way, and the wedding will be a swell one. Last night Mrs. George Wheaton, mother of the groom, gave a dinner in honor of the engaged pair and Mrs. Oscar Long of Highlands will also entertain in honor of Miss Palmer before she becomes a bride. Miss Palmer was a bridesmaid at the beautiful Requa-Long wedding not so many years ago.

During the approaching Episcopal Convention, Highlands, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Requa will be full of guests for the Requa are ardent Episcopals and will have a bishop and his consort for their guests.

The luncheon club which meets weekly in East Oakland met last Friday at the home of the Blankens in East Oakland. Mrs. W. O. Cullen being the hostess and Mrs. Funston one of the guests.

Mrs. Warring Wilkinson is giving a number of piano musicales at which a number of prominent Berkeley ladies, including Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Mrs. Thomas Bacon and others, are acting as patronesses. Mrs. Wilkinson entertained on Tuesday and again today. The musicales are dealing exclusively with the Wagner music dramas and are giving them instrumental interpretation, though it must be admitted that the piano is a bit thin and weak for Wagner.

I understand that October will also see Miss Lucy Moffitt's wedding, though so far none of the usual ante-nuptial luncheons and dinners have occurred.

October is also the month chosen by Miss Hazel Curtiss. Hers will be a big house wedding with a marquee, more than a hundred guests, and all the accessories of a charming home affair.

One of the postponed affairs of the week was a reception planned by Mrs. Sherman, who has just moved to Oakland from the city. The reception was to present to the friends of the Sherman family the fiancée of the son of the house, Miss Edna Smart, the singer. The reception was postponed to the twenty-seventh of September. The Shermans are delightful people, and are an acquisition to Oakland. They spent the summer in the Will Magee house and were so delighted with Oakland that they took another house for the winter when the Magees came back and wanted them. Miss Smart is a beautiful young woman with lots of reddish hair, a rosy complexion and a pretty taste in clothes.

I wonder if you can guess which young married pair is accounted the model young couple of Oakland? I would mention their names, but I know that they detest personal journalism. They have a small family of young children and almost every morning you may see the pretty mother out walking with her little folks. She answers all their questions cheerfully; I don't believe she ever frowns, for there are records of nothing but smiles on her charming face. The father—oh rare thing—is devoted, too. He seldom speaks to wife or children without attaching the "dear" to their names, and he is almost the only man of my acquaintance who can endure to be photographed holding his babies in his arms. Home is the principal thing to these young people, and if there were more like them I fancy the Episcopal convention need not concern itself with divorce.

But that reminds me that the present session is expected to be a very stormy one. There will be some exciting sessions on divorce, for there is a powerful portion among the clergy which objects to the re-marriage of divorced persons, no matter how guiltless, and there are others who do not believe that an innocent person should suffer a lifetime for the sin of someone else. It has heretofore been the practice in the Episcopal church to remarry divorced persons when the divorce has been granted for a fracture of the sixth commandment and when the party wishing to be re-married was the complaining one and presumably the innocent party. The guilty party, of course, could not be re-married within the Episcopal pale. Now there is a growing belief among certain powerful bishops that there should be no re-marriage of either party. The injured party may seek relief through divorce, but he or she must henceforth walk alone. There'll be a pretty fight, you see!

Another topic of debate on which there is a tremendous difference of opinion is the retaining of the American church. There are some who are not satisfied with "Protestant Episcopal" and who wish the name to include the word "Catholic" somewhere, for you know the Episcopal church claims the apostolic succession and this is where the high and low churchmen will have each other by the ears for the edification of the heathen outside the pale.

The Bohemian Club is laughing itself into hysterics over a dreadful break made by Lloyd Osborne at a tea where Miss Annie Russell was the guest of honor. Lloyd Osborne, you doubtless knew, was the stepson of Robert Louis Stevenson, and through this purely accidental relationship acquired whatever title he may have to public notice. I did not say fame, advisedly. But Mr. Osborne, like some other personages, has forgotten the "ladder by which he did ascend," and imagines that he is brilliant by his own light, not at all realizing what a dim satellite he is, giving out only a few beams of reflected light. For that reason he is forever putting his foot into it, and his airs and graces make men and angels merry.

Well, at this reception Mr. Osborne had Miss Russell's shell-like ear for a few moments and this is what he said:

"I went to see your play, Miss Russell, don't you know, and really I was delighted with it, and in that last scene, where you drop the flowers, don't you know, I said to myself, 'It really that little woman can act!'"

Miss Russell told me the story herself, and she added with a childish piquancy that is all her own:

"I wonder what he thought I was doing all the other three acts."

Polish up, polish up, oh satellite!

The William Watts, I hear, are living very modestly, for Papa Watt, to the great surprise of the young people, did not extend the paternal blessing in quite the form that was expected. His blessing was purely verbal and did not take the form of an increase of salary for Willie or a substantial check. Au contraire, Papa insists that little Willie and Mrs. Watts shall live on Willie's salary, which is by no means princely, and they are doing the love-in-a-cottage act with a vengeance, assisted on the side, it is whispered, by Mrs. Watt, who has the usual mother's weakness for an only son, and the youngest child at that.

Canny Scots, canny Scots!

San Francisco and Oakland are also giggling with glee over the discomfiture of Mrs. Sydney Van Wyck, who claims to be a descendant of kings, a colonial dame several degrees dyed in the wool, and a whole lot of other things depending entirely on blood, not at all on brains or breeding. Mrs. Van Wyck attempted to secure the hanging of a Confederate flag in one of the booths at the Episcopal Missionary Convention—curts, I believe they call them—but her attempt ended as disastrously for the flag she still clings to as the battle of Gettysburg. Now, if there is a thing on which Northern women feel strongly it is the stars and bars, and when the other women heard of it they were furious. When Mrs. Van Wyck was confronted with the facts she promptly backed down and declared that the whole thing was a joke, which is, I understand, a characteristic of her family.

And now come the Daughters of the Confederate Veterans of which Mrs. Van Wyck happens to be President and they are declaring publicly that they are delighted that Mrs. Van Wyck was exposed and they hope that her name will not be mentioned in connection with their society, for as one of them naively remarked the other day, "Indeed, she doesn't hesitate to prevaricate. We've had such a very dreadful time with her. You can't imagine."

Mrs. Van Wyck appears to be still un-reconstructed, after all these years. Perhaps she is relying on her royal blood, but the only thing you can absolutely rely upon in royal blood is a tendency to scrofula.

Monday afternoon Mrs. E. B. Stone entertains fifty ladies at cards. Mrs. Stone is really doing more than her share this year, but she loves to entertain and her home is admirably fitted for it.

No less than four prominent men died in Oakland this week. Foremost I'll put my old friend "Honest Tom Wells," once a supervisor and always a great favorite of mine. The dear old fellow died at Livermore. I used daily to love to stop there and talk with the delightfully simple old man, who was a quaint and homely philosopher—a sort of balanced Thoreau.

The death of James Munsell, Jr., Mr. Frank Ench and Mr. Girard were all sudden. Mr. Ench's particularly so. He was found dead in his bed. Mr. Ench was a delightful man, loved by everybody and the dispenser of numerous charities which nobody ever knew anything about. He was a wealthy man, a prominent Elk, and a genuinely good fellow.

There is little need to say "God rest his soul," for he always rests souls such as these.

And with this I'm going to close. Almost everyone has felt it to be a sad week but in some homes the sorrow has come with peculiar force. We ought to say with the prayer book, "Deliver us from sudden death."

THE MEDDLER.

FINKELDEY-DORSCH.

On last Wednesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Freda Dorsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorsch, of 1125 Twelfth street, was married to Frederick J. Finkeldey. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. R. Dille of the First Methodist Church in the Dorsch home, which was prettily decorated in pink and green.

A bower had been built in one corner of the reception hall, and there an orchestra played. After the ceremony supper was served, and Thursday morning the bride and groom left for Monterey to spend their honeymoon. Miss Dorsch was attended in white organdie over taffeta and carried white roses. She was attended by Miss Maggie Whitaker, Miss Etta Dorsch and Miss Aurora Rettig, all of whom wore pink organdie over pink taffeta. Five-year-old Edwin Smith was the ringbearer.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Finkeldey, Edwin Finkeldey, the Misses Finkeldey, Henry Metzger, William Metzger, Miss Minnie Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nette, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. M. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fahy, Miss Elsie

The best man will be Arthur Berry.

After the ceremony a wedding supper will be served at the home of the bride's parents, followed by a reception.

After a trip to the south Mr. and Mrs. Kadell will go to housekeeping on Twelfth street.

A PRYTANEAN FAIR.

The Prytanean Society of the University of California will give a garden fete early in October. All the organizations which are represented in the Prytanean will take part in the affair, which will include a large number of booths of various kinds, each booth being assigned to the care of some fraternity or club. An admission fee will be charged and refreshments sold at the various booths. The young ladies are giving the fete for the purpose of raising money to swell their hospital fund.

ENGAGEMENT RECEPTION.

Last Wednesday evening an engagement party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dodge, 2001 Alameda avenue, Alameda. The betrothal of their daughter, Miss Mabel Dodge, to George A. Innes of that place, was announced. There were fifty guests in attendance. Hearts formed the decorations, which were very prettily arranged in the rooms. In serving the refreshments the same emblem figured and the individual visiting her sister, Mrs. George E. Whitney, has returned to the East.

George A. Gray, the popular cashier for Layman Real Estate Company, left Monday for Southern California, where he will spend his vacation season.

Dan W. La Fortune, the well-known real estate salesman for Layman Real Estate Company, has returned after an extended vacation in the Santa Cruz mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Butters have returned to Alta Vista from their recent trip to London.

plates of ice cream were in the form of hearts.

The bride-elect is popular in the younger set in Alameda. She recently returned from a year's tour of the Eastern states. The prospective groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Innes of Everett street, Alameda. The date of the wedding has not yet been set.

A NIGHT IN VENICE.

Next Saturday, the "Night in Venice" entertainment, for which a great deal of preparation has been made, will be given in the beautiful grounds of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schilling, on Lake Merritt. The proceeds will be applied to the benefit of the West Oakland Free Kindergarten. Rowboats lighted by electricity will ply up and down the lake, the large electric fountain, on which pretty colored lights will be thrown, will rise and fall all the evening, and a thousand electric lights will sparkle among the branches of the trees. Lemonade will be dispensed by Miss Cordelia Bishop, the Misses Carolyn and Anita Oliver and Miss Daisy Holden. The candy booth will be in charge of Miss Florine Brown, who will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everett. Besides the stringed band there will be a fine musical program under the direction of Mrs. James Allen. Ice cream, candy, flower booths and a tea-house, to be presided over by a number of young girls, who will assist the "Thimble Rev" girls, under whose direction the affair will be given.

TO MARRY AT CHRISTMAS.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Lulu Musette Haswell of this city, and John R. Goodall of San Francisco, has been made. Miss Haswell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Penn Haswell. She is a brunette and is possessed of musical talent and skill as an elocutionist. Mr. Goodall is a merchant of the firm of Mitchell & Goodall of San Francisco.

The wedding will take place about Christmas.

ORPHEUS CLUB CONCERT.

The next concert of the Orpheus Club will be given next Tuesday evening, September 24.

The soloists of the evening are Mrs. Arthur Gwynne, violinist, and Miss Anna Louise Daniels, of whose beautiful contralto voice many favorable criticisms have been written. The following is the program:

PART FIRST.

"To Thee, O Country"....J. Eichberg

home, became the wife of Dr. Joseph Fife of Red Bluff.

There were thirty-five guests present and these were friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride's gown was of white organdie, and she carried Bride roses. Miss Lillian Reed, the bride's sister, was her attendant and was gowned in pale green mulle.

Dr. Mortimer Gibbons of San Francisco was best man. The marriage service was read by Rev. W. K. Guthrie, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of San Francisco.

The bride has been one of the most popular teachers of the Oakland School Department. She is a graduate of the University of California of the class of '93. Dr. Fife is also a University graduate, and it was during their college days that the friendship was begun which resulted in their marriage. After taking his degree of M. D., Dr. Fife made his home in Red Bluff, where he has a well established practice.

SPAULDING-WALLACE.

The marriage of Miss Inez C. Wallace and Milton E. Spaulding took place last Tuesday evening at the Franklin street home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wallace. The home was prettily decorated in white and green, pink amaryllis giving an effective dash of color. A bower was formed of asparagus ferns and trailing plants and overhead a canopy was formed out with white ribbons, which upheld a white dove with outspread wings.

The bride wore a gown of white silk and carried Bride roses. A long tulle veil was also worn.

Miss Edith Schulze of East Oakland was maid of honor and was gowned in pink.

Three little flower girls, clad in white, led the bridal procession. They were the sister and nieces of the groom, Reba Spaulding, Marcella Brown and Marguerite Parker.

The groom was attended by his brother, Will Spaulding, Rev. C. R. Brown of the First Congregational Church officiated.

Only relatives were present at the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of the Oakland High School and is an accomplished musician, being a member of the Wednesday Morning Club.

The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spaulding and is a popular young business man of San Francisco, being connected with a well-known insurance firm of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding expect to be absent on their honeymoon trip about three weeks, after which they will reside in Oakland.

COMING NUPTIALS.

The marriage of Miss Ida Belle Palmer and George Wheaton will be solemnized at the bride's Jackson street home on October 8. The wedding will be one of the most pleasant social events of the month, owing to the prominence of the two families concerned.

A RED DINNER.

Mrs. W. A. Bray entertained a small party at a "red dinner" last Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Henry Weatherhead and the latter's sister, Mrs. Farwell. Covers were laid for Mrs. Bessie Martin, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Coon, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bray, Miss Hill-ton, Mrs. Balfour Adamson and Mrs. W. A. Bray.

JAMIESON-HEWLETT.

Last Tuesday evening, the marriage of Miss Carrie Pauline Hewlett and George Gilchrist Jamieson took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Hewlett in East Oakland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Carson Shaw of the Church of the Advent.

The bride wore a pretty gown of white organdie and carried Bride roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nettie Hewlett, who was attired in white organdie over blue silk. The bridesmaid carried a bouquet of pink roses. Dr. Howard Lackey was best man.

The home was beautifully decorated. The bower where the bridal party stood was of delicate green ferns and from the center depended a large bell of white and palest pink flowers. The ceremony was witnessed by a few intimate friends and relatives only.

The bride is a daughter of the late William Hewlett, a wealthy rancher of Pleasanton, and a niece of H. H. Hewlett of the Stockton Banker.

The groom has been connected with the Hall Warehouse Company of Pleasanton for a number of years, but will hereafter reside in Washington, where he has business connections, and Mrs. Jamieson have gone to their northern home.

NUPTIALS ON SUNDAY.

The engagement of Miss Nellie Laubheimer of Alameda to George W. Young is announced. The wedding will take place next Sunday evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Laubheimer, 2132 Railroad avenue. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father O'Connell of St. Joseph's Church. Miss May Laubheimer will be bridesmaid, and Mrs. Jamieson have gone to their northern home.

LIVED THREE SCORE AND TEN.

One of the most interesting dinner parties of the season was that given on the evening of Saturday, September 14, by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lehnhardt, at their home, 1120 West street, in honor of Henry Lehnhardt, father of the host.

Covers were laid for fifteen, and the dining room was artistically decorated with remarkably good taste and striking effect. Tiger lilies, ferns, amaryllis, carnations and other harmonizing color effects were used to produce a scene of beauty.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lehnhardt, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. A. Obermeier, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Webb, Mrs. M. Ulmer, Miss Carrie Ulmer, Miss Ottilie Lehnhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lehnhardt, Miss E. Lehnhardt, Mrs. H. Martin.

The occasion of the gathering was the celebration of the seventeenth birthday of Henry Lehnhardt, the principal guest. A pleasant reminder of the happy event that occurred at Mainz on the banks of the Rhine three score and ten years ago was a choice vintage served the guests that

ENDEAVORERS AND TEMPERANCE

Anti-Liquor Sentiment to Be Discussed in Various County Churches.

Communications for this column should reach Miss May P. Cruff, 1132 East Nineteenth street, Oakland, not later than Thursday morning.

The Temperance Committee of the County Union has inaugurated a plan of holding union temperance meetings of C. E. and Epworth Leagues throughout the county. The first of these meetings is to be held Sunday evening, September 22, at 5:15 o'clock, in the following churches, with the speakers named below:

First M. E. Church, Oakland—Address by Rev. Dr. J. J. Spencer, State Secretary of W. C. T. U.

Chester Street M. E., West Oakland—Address by Mrs. P. L. Wheat, Superintendent Christian Citizenship State W. C. T. U.

Berkeley—Address by Rev. Franklin Rhoda.

Alden Presbyterian—Address by George P. Lovell.

In addition to the addresses, there will be special music at each place. These meetings should be largely attended, as interest in temperance work is much needed among endeavorers. Let each society in the several districts attend in a body.

President Du Mars has announced the names of those on the program committee for the coming County Convention to be held in Union Street Presbyterian Church as follows: Miss Estelle Matheson, Chairman; Geo. H. Martin, Miss Joyce Howland, Rev. D. E. Potter, Miss Edith Whitehead, Miss Lydia Howland, N. S. Angwin, and "Missions," and every effort will be put forth to make it interesting and profitable.

came from the birthplace of Mr. Lehnhardt. The menu was served by Hallahan, caterer, and the cards were made very attractive by numerous appropriate selections from Shakespeare.

ANOTHER ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Edith Corwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Corwin, and Wendell Thomas. No date has been set for the wedding.

IN HONOR OF BRIDES.

Miss Lillian Miller will give a card party at her home, 476 Prospect avenue, in honor of four Oakland brides-to-be, Miss Lulu Rued, Miss Muriel Morrison, Miss Ruth and Miss Gardner. The party will commence at 2 o'clock, and the dancing will continue to be enjoyed throughout the afternoon.

WILKINSON-MACDONALD.

The marriage of Miss Florence Macdonald of this city and Frank T. Wilkinson of Berkeley, took place last Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Pacific avenue. The bride was graduated from the State University with the class of '99, while Mr. Wilkinson was graduated from Stanford last year in the pioneer class of '95, and is now in the Southern Pacific Company.

ENTERTAINED LITTLE ONES.

In response to an invitation in rhyme, Miss Dottie May Egbert entertained her little friends in celebration of her birthday. The parlors were artistically decorated in red, white and blue and the green of bamboo and grasses. The children had the merriest kind of a time from 1:30 to 6 o'clock. There were games, music and favors, and, of course, an elaborate birthday cake. Refreshments were served by Miss Egbert and the following ladies: Miss Violet Casey, Mrs. Felton Taylor, Miss Hilda

Berger, Miss Margaret Gunn, Miss Rachel Coplin, Miss Clara McLean, Misses Edith and Margaret Roney.

The little guests were Eleanor Munson, Hester Rowley, Seeta Taylor, Gladys Rix, Mignon Wilson, Ruth Barker, Helen Davenport, Rosalie Ogden, Marie McHenry, Amy Bowles, Carmen Percy, Mabel Miller, Hope Matthews, Veta Vincent, Sylvia "Sally" Saling, Margaret Webber, Edna Prather, Helen High, Ethel Carroll, Ruth Sharon, Mima Berger, Jean Scupham, Phyllis Lovell, Olive Hervey, Dorothy Taft, Alice Dexter, Dorothy Tregloan, Debi Bulcher, Don and Dick McClure, Will Parrish, Ross English, Frank Baxter, Herbert Sullinger, Charles Prentiss, Deering, Marcel Lohse, George Bowles, Ernest Percy, Felton Taylor, Herbert Scupham, Monie Hervey, Will High, Sydney Carlton, Fred Moller, Herbie Gunn, John Ever, Bob Sharon, Clyde Warren, David Davies, Eddie, Charlie and Morrison Egbert.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS AGO.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wright Sisson of 718 Seventeenth street was recently celebrated in a very pleasant manner in the presence of a number of friends of the couple, who were married in Mount Sterling, Indiana, in 1851. A poem, by James Newton Matthews was read on the occasion. The home was decorated with yellow flowers in honor of the golden anniversary. The couple were the recipients of many useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Sisson have living nine children, twenty-one grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Both of the old people enjoy excellent health, the husband being 74 and the wife 72 years of age.

KIRKPATRICK FOR MAYOR OF SAN FRANCISCO.

He May be the Unanimous Choice of the Hundreds of Delegates at the Republican Convention at the Session Next Thursday.

State Harbor Commissioner John C. Kirkpatrick, the manager of the Sharon estate hotels in San Francisco, is deemed very excellent timber by many people for Mayor of that metropolis. He is not known to be a candidate, but the feeling prevails everywhere in that big town that he is most available as the situation now appears.

It is quite probable, judging from current sentiment, that the delegates to the Republican municipal convention will next week ratify public opinion emphatically by making Colonel Kirkpatrick the party's nominee for Mayor of San Francisco.

There are 410 delegates in the convention, which organized last Monday, and will resume its session next Thursday at 9:30 a. m. Eighteen assembly districts will be represented at the proceedings, and T. D. Riordan is chairman and A. K. Daggett is secretary of the body.

The outlook is cheering to Kirkpatrick's friends, because of the favor with which his name is generally greeted in all parts of San Francisco. The Chronicle and the Call have already expressed themselves in no uncertain terms regarding his fitness for public station, as will be made manifest by these words of those morning newspapers of California's chief community:

The San Francisco Chronicle of March 27th, last, had this to say of Mr. Kirkpatrick:

"Word went along the line yesterday from unofficial but well informed circles that John C. Kirkpatrick had been appointed Harbor Commissioner to succeed Major P. J. Harnoy."

"The selection of a man not a politician is a great surprise to many who thought themselves wise as to the situation. There was a great long list of aspirants, all of whom claimed to have more or less strength."

"A meeting of representatives of the various commercial bodies was held Monday, but no one was indicated. The business men merely asked that the Governor appoint some one well qualified for the position and satisfactory to the commercial community. As Kirkpatrick is a business man of ability, his appointment will no doubt be considered."

It is popular, it being the consensus of opinion that Kane acquitted himself as much credit as Queenan and that the fight should have been declared a draw.

Kane led the fighting from the first up to the sixth round, when he received a fierce jolt in the jaw. Queenan landed his right frequently on Kane until the closing rounds of the fight, when he weakened.

Kane had the best of the twelfth and thirteenth rounds and it looked as if he had his man going, but Queenan recuperated before the fourteenth.

The men fought a hard battle and the sound of the gong at the close found both exhausted.

Jack Capless won from Bobby Martin in ten rounds.

Jack McDonald won from Jack Dolan in six rounds. Judge Crenell decided for McDonald. Judge Williamson declared a draw and Referee Smith decided in favor of McDonald.

BOXING NIGHT AT THE RELIANCE.

Queenan and Kane Put Up a Clever Battle for Fifteen Rounds.

Referee E. J. Smith gave Queenan the decision over Jack Kane in the fifteen round go which took place last night at the Reliance Club.

The decision, however, was extremely close.

RARE SPORT AT LIVERMORE.

Large Wagons Loaded With Hay Race for Place at the Station.

LIVERMORE, Sept. 21.—A new style of racing is indulged in here several times daily. The large amount of hay being hauled to the warehouses requires a great many teams and it often happens that as many as thirty are lined up at the scales or warehouses awaiting their turn to unload.

This morning a wait of several hours to the hind man and in consequence several heavily loaded teams with from four to six horses will daily race from the town limits to the warehouse.

The sport, if such it can be called, is rather dangerous but so far there has been no accident other than the loss of a few bales of hay.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT.

TELLS WHAT IS NEEDED TO RUN THE CITY GOVERNMENT—WHERE THE CUTS WERE MADE IN THE DEPARTMENTS—AN EXCELLENT REPORT.

The following report of the Auditing and Finance Committee was read and placed on file last night at a meeting of the City Council:

Gentlemen of the Council: Your Auditing and Finance Committee in reporting the tax levy for the fiscal year 1901-1902, for your consideration, beg leave to state that they have encountered severe difficulty in apportioning funds for the maintenance of the various city departments by reason of the low assessment and the deficit of $25,500 in the salary account carried over from last year. This difficulty was aggravated by the necessity for providing necessary fire protection in the district recently annexed and by the deplorable condition into which the streets and sewers have been allowed to fall during the past two years.

"We may state that Oakland has a smaller assessed valuation for its wealth, population and extent of territory of any city in the country. Even on the basis of that assessed valuation, the tax which we have decided that it is proper to levy, $1.29 on the hundred dollars, is small, in view of the fact that the city's income from indirect sources is practically confined to liquor licenses and a small license tax on signs. This city has abandoned nearly all forms of indirect taxation, and is therefore compelled to rely for revenue almost entirely on a property tax which is limited by law to $1 on the $100.00 except for certain specified purposes.

"This Council inherited a considerable debt and a street department in great disrepair. With this inheritance it was compelled to make an income that was $43,000 short of meeting current expenses according to the Auditor's estimates, answer for the requirements of the city.

"At the outset your committee found that the Auditor had dealt very unfairly with the different departments in making up his estimates. Wherever water was used for sewer flushing, park irrigation, street sprinkling and fire purposes, he made sweeping reductions. In the one item of street sprinkling alone he cut off $12,000, or about 40 per cent, reducing the department estimate from $32,000 to $20,000. To follow this suggestion requires that the city should cut down the street sprinkling nearly half.

"But the allowance made by the Auditor has already been nearly consumed, leaving practically nothing for street sprinkling in April, May and June of next year. During the past summer the streets were insufficiently sprinkled, and have fallen into great disrepair in consequence. There has been much well grounded complaint from citizens for the failure of the municipality in this respect.

"However, the straitened condition of the treasury has compelled your committee to make a substantial reduction from the department estimate to correspond with general reductions made in other departments. We have therefore reduced the estimate from $22,000 to $20,000, which is fifty per cent of the Auditor's cut. Even this cut is to be regretted, because it will permit of limited sprinkling the first half of next summer.

"The Auditor treated the matter of street lights in a somewhat different spirit. The department estimate for street lights was $89,105. The Auditor shaved off the $105, and allowed the whole $89,000 to stand, although he cut all other estimates to strings.

"The Chief of the Fire Department made up his estimate on the basis of 54 hydrants being used. The Auditor arbitrarily cut off all the new hydrants ordered for the annexed district. It is useless to maintain fire engines and pay firemen unless available sources of water supply are provided. While it has been necessary to provide for an increased number of hydrants, your committee has decided that they must be dispensed with as far as possible without crippling the fire service. We have therefore cut thirty hydrants off the Fire Chief's estimate in making the allowance for the Fire Department, providing for the use of only 51. This requires the addition of only fifty-two new hydrants.

"Fire protection is one of the most necessary functions of a city government, inasmuch as it is a safeguard for both life and property. It reduces the charges for insurance, and thus compensates property owners directly for the taxes they pay to maintain it.

"In looking over the estimates of the City Engineer, we discovered that he had simply used the estimates handed to him by a predecessor, and the Auditor practically adopted them without investigation. After consulting with the City Engineer and explaining the situation, that official consented that his estimates be cut down over $3,000, stating that he could conduct his office on the reduced allowance. The cuts made are chargeable against the General Fund.

"In the Health Department we have found it advisable to make reduction in the number of inspectors and also make other reductions in expenditures.

"For the Park Funds we have reduced the estimate for water charges $1,500, but have been compelled to make a small allowance for needed improvements in some of the squares.

"In dealing with the High School your committee have deemed it expedient to place half the cost of its maintenance in the regular levy and to provide for the other half by a special levy of 7 cents on the hundred dollars. Under the law enacted by the last Legislature the Council can make a special levy for the entire expense of maintaining the High School, but we decided it to be inexpedient to do so at this time, as we recommended a special levy of eight cents for the Park and Boulevard Fund, to be specifically used for repairing the Twelfth Street dam in accordance with the plans of the City Engineer.

"This special levy will fall very lightly on the taxpayers. The seven cents for the High School will only add $2.10 to the total taxes of a citizen whose home is assessed for $3,000. Eight cents boulevard tax will add only $2.40 on a $3,000 householder, making a total of $4.50 increased taxes on a $3,000 valuation. This seems very small in view of the great and necessary objects to be attained.

"For the Free Library your committee has striven a point and made an allowance of about $28,000, including the estimated amount to be derived from fines. If there are any deficiencies that must be supplied in filling up the new building they can be supplied from the General Fund.

"For the Street Light Fund your committee has made an apportionment of the levy that will yield over $80,000, which is a moderate reduction from the estimate, as compared with the estimates for other expenditures. In making this apportionment it was our aim to treat all interests fairly and not sacrifice some for the benefit of others.

"We wish to state that the Auditor estimated that the sums chargeable against the General Fund would aggregate $55,194. We have made reductions in the various items of this estimate, aggregating over $8,000, and made additions to the extent of $1,500. This will leave a balance of about $7,694 in the General Fund to supply deficiencies in other funds and to provide for unexpected demands upon the city government. Should this amount be insufficient, the fiscal year can be successfully tideed over by carrying over a few thousand dollars of statutory salaries, though we are of the opinion that the several departments can be conducted on the sums apportioned. In addition to this the city will receive from $2,000 to $4,000 from delinquent taxes and possibly eight or ten thousand dollars more than estimated from sign licenses. Should these expectations be realized the city will be enabled to get through the year in better shape than it has for some years past.

"The Police and Salary Funds have shared the cuts in a more limited degree, that the other departments have been compelled to bear. While it may be necessary to dispense with the services of four or five policemen, the efficiency of the department will not be impaired.

"In short, your committee has been impressed with the necessity of curtailing expenses wherever possible and have shared the burdens of economy upon all alike. Very respectfully,

"W. F. COURTNEY, Chairman."

WEST OAKLAND SALOONS ARE OPEN

Councilmen Refuse to Sustain the Protest Against Bernardo and Dickenson.

The two West Oakland saloons owned by Joe Bernardo and J. K. Dickinson will not have their licenses taken away by the City Council. It was so decided at the meeting of the Council last night.

Patrolman Cooney, Stohal and Andrews appeared before the Council and testified to the character of the places. The testimony of the three policemen was unanimous that the places were being conducted in a respectable way and that women and children did not frequent the resorts.

Dickinson's place, they said, was patronized solely by colored people. There had never been any complaint from Bernardo's place, they said, and that since the question of revoking the licenses had come up no women had been seen entering the place.

The vote on revoking the license of Bernardo was as follows:

Noss—Bishop, Bon, Courtney, Cuvellier, Wilcox, Schaffer—6.

Ayes—Boyer, Wallace—2.

Absent—Dornin, Fitzgerald, Rich—3.

The vote on revoking Dickinson's license was the same, with the exception of Boyer, who voted with the majority.

Councilman Wallace in explaining his vote said that he had stated his position on the liquor question before election. It was that when a protest was made against a saloon he would not vote to give the place a license.

Cuvellier, in explaining his vote, said that there were places in the town that were conducted much more badly than these and that he saw no reason for taking the licenses away.

LITTLE BOY LOST AN EYE.

Was Playing on a Swing When He Was Struck by His Sister.

BERKELEY, Sept. 21.—William Richardson, Jr., the two-year-old son of William Richardson of 2218 Telegraph avenue, lost his right eye this morning. The eye was penetrated by a rusty nail which caused the vitreous humor to flow down upon the child's cheek.

The accident happened while the little one was swinging. His sister, Elvina, held a stick containing the nail in such a manner as to cause him to run into it.

Teach the Children Kindness To Animals

A cheering, beautiful sign of advancing civilization is the constantly increasing good will and consideration shown toward dumb animals. Cruelty to the helpless is a survival of savagery. Red Indians beat and starve their ponies and torture inhumanly their captives in war.

The individual in his development passes through the same evolutionary stages as the nations now civilized have done. In his childhood he is a cruel little savage unless his eyes are opened by some one older and wiser than himself, one who will teach him that pain inflicted on an animal or on a child younger and weaker than himself is sure to be visited on him later in some sort of punishment that fits his crime. The Buddhists and Brahmins of India believe that animals have souls which are reborn again on the earth in like manner with the souls of human beings. If a horse suddenly, without any apparent cause, turns upon a man and bites or kicks and tramples him to death, the Buddhist says it is because the man tortured the brute in a past incarnation, filled its animal soul with thoughts of fear and revenge, which never left it until it was able to wreak its vengeance long after, for—

Hatred ceases not with hatred.

Sounds fanciful and silly, does it, the Buddhist idea? Well, it is a thousand pities that so called civilized white people could not believe it too, for then the hearts of really civilized white people would not be harrowed up day by day with outrages and awful cruelties they can do nothing to prevent.

You never thought of it probably, but women are the ones directly responsible for cruelties practiced upon cats and dogs, upon horses, birds and cattle and all the tortured live stock procession that follows wailing and crying in the wake of the human race. Mothers and women teachers could develop the tenderness that is latent in the soul of every child. They could show the children that kicks, cuffs, burns, starvation and thirst hurt the animal exactly as much as they hurt the human.

If the history of every murderer could be traced back to his childhood, it would be found nearly always that he was a boy who stoned cats and kicked dogs, who neglected to give food and drink to helpless dumb animals fastened up so they could not get it for themselves.

The other day a lady saw a horse attached to a heavy wagon that was stopped near a drinking trough. The poor horse's mouth was parched with thirst, he was panting and quivering with the heat, he was striving desperately to reach the water, but the check-rein prevented. The fat brute of a driver sat upon his perch too lazy to descend and loosen the rein.

"Do give that horse his head so he can get a drink," said the lady. The two legged brute leered at her impudently and said, "Miss, you 'tend to your business and I'll 'tend to mine, see?" And the wretched, suffering horse got no drink. But the lady went at once and joined the Society For Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and got a badge showing her to be a member of it. Next time she sees a human monster refusing water to a thirsty horse she will show him that badge and he will be forced to loosen the check-rein or be arrested. The dumb protest of that one tortured horse did good to his suffering brothers, anyhow.

If the two legged beast who drove the four footed one had his story told from childhood, no doubt it would be found that when his mother moved away from one house to another she left the family cat to starve in the abandoned home or to be stoned to death by street boys. Probably, too, his woman teacher were upon her hat the tender breast of a rare plumaged bird, torn from it to satisfy the whim of a bloody, awful fashion. Perhaps, too, his grown up sister wore a fur bonnet with the head, natural and lifelike, of a mink or a fox dangling from it for ornament. Orna-ment! Heaven have mercy on the children whose mothers, teachers and sisters do these things!

Woman tender hearted? Woman merciful? Never say it again. And you, O women, do look beyond your noses and see these crimes you are responsible for! You will answer for them so sure as justice reigns.

If there is no society for the prevention of cruelty to animals in your neighborhood, form one. Let the children who can learn the most concerning the habits and anatomy of animals, the methods of treatment best adapted to them, be the banner members. It is true that if all the cats and dogs were allowed to live earth would be overrun with them, but for your own souls' sakes teach children that the way to get rid of these is not to stone and starve and kick them to death, but to put them out quickly and painlessly by drowning or by chloroform. In most towns there are now societies that, if notified, will take away and put a painless end to homeless and objectionable animals.

You women teachers—you who exercise your pupils in mathematical gymnastics till they can answer instantly when you ask them "if the nineteenth part of a hair measures four ten-thousandths of an inch, how much will the ninety-ninth part measure?"—have you ever asked them to explain to you the difference between a cat's claws and a dog's paws? Do you know it yourself? Have you ever taught them that to give a tug to a cat's tail is really giving a tug to her spinal marrow and hurts her horribly, even up to her brain? Have you ever told them that a cat's whiskers are as sensitive as their own eyes and eyelashes, and to touch them even gives her annoyance, while to pull these whiskers inflicts keen torture upon her? Or perhaps you didn't know that yourself.

And you, mothers, women teachers, grandmothers, grown sisters, aunts and all—do you ever gather the children around you and tell them stories of the intelligence and affection that animals display to those who treat them well, and that oftentimes human beings can learn from them, dumb though they are, as much as from books?

JANE STORY.

AFFECTED WOMEN.

Men Can See Through Their Little Mannerisms Every Time.

What's the use of acting differently with a man than you would with a woman? I mean what's the use of posing, of gushing and of pretending a whole lot of things which you are not. In a word, what's the use of being affected? Perhaps you think the man doesn't know the difference. That's where you make the greatest mistake of your life. Ask any man. He'll tell you. That's what I did the other day. The man answered most emphatically in the affirmative. "But how can you tell?" I asked. "Why, I can just feel it," he answered. "Just as I can tell in business when a man is trying to bluff me." "Do you know," I went on, "I rather fancied that men liked silly, affected girls; they certainly seem to go with them more than they do with the sensible ones of my acquaintance." The man laughed. "Why, of course that kind of a girl amuses a man. It's as good as going to the theater, and it's all for his own particular benefit. Do you wonder that men get conceited when girls put themselves to so much trouble to please them? Why, I have known girls to pretend they were just the opposite of their natural selves just to make an impression on a man. It must have been hard work, too," he mused reminiscently.

"But doesn't a man ever get taken in and then find out his mistake after he is married?" "Not if he is a man of any brains," he answered. "Do you know how a wise man judges the character of the girl he thinks of marrying? He watches her when she is with other women. That's the sure test. Then there's another even better. He takes notice of the way the girl treats her chaperon or the elder women of the party—not how she treats them before him, but how she treats them when she thinks no one is noticing. Why, I remember a case which touches just upon that point. A friend of mine was engaged to a charming girl, and one of her most beautiful traits was the consideration with which she treated her old mother. It was nothing but dears and darlings and kisses and little attentions. Well, they were staying at the same summer hotel, and one hot night when the windows were all open he happened quite by accident to overhear a conversation she had with her mother. What a revelation it was to him! There was one engagement he had before the summer was over and one sadder and wiser man."

The day when men admired affectation is gone by with the time when they admired weakness in women. Men today like to look a woman straight in the eye and feel sure that she is as free from hypocrisy as the best of their own sex; for there is one masculine quality that a man does not admire in a woman, and that is being "square."

AUTUMN FASHIONS.

COATS AND TAILOR GOWNS FOR TRAVELING AND COUNTRY VISITS.

Turn-down Collars and Flat Capes to the Fore—Sack Backs in the New Jackets—Browns, Greens, Fawn and Grays Are Coming Colors.

Not a storm or medic collar will be left in the land by the time autumn modes are well established, if present indications hold good. Deep, flat shaped capes falling straight from the neck rank well to the front and, it is rumored, are likely to be doubled and trebled.

Then another effective finish to tailor made coats will be flat, stolelike pieces of velvet stitched at either edge with a narrow fancy galloon or embroidery. These, following the outline of the neck, terminate midway down the front, or, again, long, natural lapels formed by the throwing back of the front of a coat or corsage—narrow, unassuming affairs, but distinctly stylish—are surmounted by a narrow stitched strapping in lieu of a collar.

People who are rushing from one pleasure resort to another will still find opportunity for displaying smart details. Long, sweeping skirts and airy boleros. But travelers and those about to visit rural districts will turn to other modes. Contrary to what is much to be desired—viz, short skirts—some of the smartest gown builders are making up their new autumn gowns of serge, homespuns and kindred stuffs to touch the ground, and the accompanying skirt bolero jackets, over blouses, have generally wide turn-down collars.

The flannel dresses are quite pretty. Those with blue, pink or black stripes have accompanying jackets of the Chesterfield or bolero shape, and alpaca is again being pushed.

Traveling coats are the smart thing either in three-quarters length or longer. One style, entirely covering the gown; has ample pockets at the side and a turned down collar and is made of rainproof fabric in fawns, grays, black, navy or blue and white.

The accompanying sketch shows a practical and stylish coat suitable for traveling, country wear in general or yachting. It is made with the sleeves put in the ordinary way, not running up into the shoulder and collar band. It is not a sack, but is full in the skirt, with comfortable, useful pockets, including one for tickets and suited alike to grown up people and younger ones. By means of a slit in the seam at the side the skirt can be held up without interfering with its appearance. It is made in various materials, some with herringbone weaving Scotch tweeds and checks, as well as serge.

Very pretty dresses, just what people want for traveling, are made up in serge, shepherd's plaid and several varieties of wool, in brown, green, fawn, gray, mignonette and lichen greens, with various tones of gray. These bid fair to be the fashionable colorings in "tailor modes" during the ensuing autumn.

Two examples are shown for sport-ing and country wear, one gray and green mixed tweed, piped with gray and trimmed with tartan; the other, dull red striped flannel cloth with white cloth trimming. Toques in soft materials and ornamented with quills are stylish worn with these.

The three pointed skirt is making headway with the tailors, and tuckers are being introduced on many cloth dresses.

CAPITAL WEDDINGS.

Many Washington People of Prominence Soon to Face the Altar.

Cupid has been exceedingly busy in Washington during the last year or so, and the natural result will be his retirement in the fall in favor of Hymen. The number of weddings to be celebrated at the national capital in the near future is unusually large.

An early September wedding will be that of Mrs. Mary E. Blackburn to Senator Joseph C. S. Blackburn of

MISS LOUISE TUCKER.

Kentucky. Other congressional weddings will be those of the Misses Foraker, daughters of the Ohio senator.

Not until we reach the large and exclusive "army and navy set" of Washington society do we find the greatest number of blushing brides and happy bridegrooms. In October the adjutant general of the United States army, General Henry C. Corbin, will be married to Miss Edith Patten. Another notable army engagement is that of Miss Consuelo Yznaga of Washington to Lieutenant James Regan, Jr.

One of Washington's most beautiful and accomplished society girls, Miss Louise Tucker, will be married this month to Lieutenant N. B. Rittenhouse, U. S. A. An engagement just announced that signifies the union of the two branches of the service is that of Miss Mary Switzer, daughter of the late General Nelson B. Switzer, U. S. A., to Lieutenant Joseph Strauss, U. S. N. Lieutenant Strauss is the famous gunnery expert in charge of the naval proving ground at Indian Head, Md.

Congressional circles are interested in the coming nuptials of Miss Abby Aldrich, daughter of the Rhode Island senator, to Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., son of the millionaire. This wedding, however, will probably not be celebrated until winter and will then be at the Aldrich house in Providence. R. I. Diplomats are preparing for the marriage in October of Miss Regina Rengifo, the charming American widow of a distinguished Colombian general, to M. Eugene Thibault, formerly secretary of the French embassy.

ALFONSO TO TRAVEL.

Spain's Boy King Will Visit Various Parts of Europe.

When in a few days President Loubet of France meets his friend and ally, Nicholas II. of Russia, he will welcome at the same time as a guest young King Alfonso of Spain. Together the president and the two monarchs will review the French army in its grand maneuvers near the ancient city of Rheims.

The young king of Spain's visit to his northern neighbor will be part of his extended trip through Spain and France. He expects to visit Gibraltar, the Balearic Islands and Marseilles, ending the trip at Reims. It is quite probable that the tour will be extended to Germany, and Alfonso may pay a visit to his Teutonic "cousin," Emperor William. It is also possible that the return trip may be made through Austria, giving Alfonso an opportunity of meeting his old kinsman, the emperor of that country. Throughout his travels the king will be accompanied by General Weyer of unpleasant memory.

PAINTING SCENERY.

GREAT ADVANCES IN MODERN STAGE-CRAFT.

Exactness Necessary to Give the Impression of Reality—The Subtle but Effective Suggestion—One Actor Who Can Set His Own Plays.

Now that the theatrical season has opened the attention of critical theatergoers is again called to the advances in stagecraft. Modern histrionic art consists not alone in the skill of the dramatist and the faithful exposition of the player, but also in the correct setting of the scenes. The eye as well as the ear must be enchanted if the efforts of the playwright and the player are not to be rendered nil. Modern scene painting as it is understood and practiced in the theaters of our larger cities and towns is a thing of exactness and beauty.

Only rarely does one find a man who is both actor and scene painter. Few unite with the ability to depict character skill with brush and palette and a talent for conceiving and designing the scenery, draperies, costumes and light effects for a dramatic production. Mr. Tim Murphy, the well known comedian, has these gifts, and he recently explained the method of correctly setting a play. While talking he was busily engaged with the stage setting of his new play, "A Capitol Comedy."

"Did you ever consider the care and taste and skill that must be exercised in preparing a production?" asked Mr. Murphy. "Everything has to be considered with regard to everything else. If there are four acts in the play and four different settings, the color in each should be varied from every other to give contrast. Then the color in each must be characteristic of the locale; the hangings and furniture must harmonize; even the dresses of the ladies must contrast harmoniously with each other and with the scenic background. The choice of color is not altogether arbitrary by any means," he continued. "In my present play the third act represents a corridor in the senate wing of the capitol of the United States. For this I had only to get pictures of the original and study my colors. Oh, yes, the colors had to be studied, not copied. You know, scenery is never exposed without artificial light upon it, so that the colors are quite unlike what they would be in daytime.

"I am a believer in the voice of the scenery in helping to tell the story. That doesn't seem to be clear? Let's explain. Instead of a character coming in and explaining, 'How brightly the moon shines' or 'As this is winter' or any other palpable speech of that sort the scenery should explain it all the minute the curtain goes up.

"This room represents a respectable poor man's lodging in Washington. The curtain rises. Instantly you know it is Washington, because the Washington monument is visible through the window. The cheap pattern of the paper on the wall, the cheap carpet, all proclaim the poverty of the occupant, but order and cleanliness indicate respectability. Two indications tell that the room is at the top of the house. The stair rail here, dipping down, indicates stairs going to a floor below. This only shows that the room is above the first floor, you say. But this slope in the rear half of the ceiling, the slope in the upper half of the back wall to meet it and this boxing in of the windows tell that the room is next under the roof.

"We pursue the same reasoning in devising the second act. It is the drawing room of the home of wealth. It is night in winter. The wealth is shown in this effect of old gold satin wall work and the heavy woodwork, the splendor of the furnishings and the elaborate electric chandeliers. The curtain will rise on a dark stage. A fire will flicker on the hearth here. 'Winter,' it says. 'Through these two windows come soft green and white moonlight. That says 'Night.'

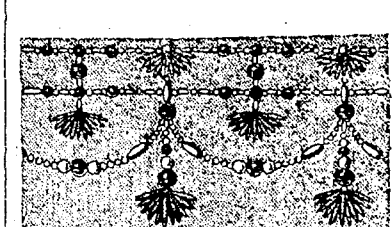

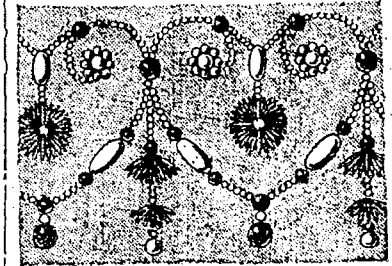

"The scene of the last act is the same as the first. The walls are stripped of everything that was on them in the first act. But a trunk stands out in the middle of the floor. Daylight comes in through the windows, although a lighted lamp stands on the table. The principal character is discovered asleep in a chair before the trunk, a few things on the floor beside him. Is the inference clear that he is packing up to go away, that he began to pack during the night, but fell asleep and had not waked up even when daylight came?"

A DECORATIVE NOTION.

The Use of Melon Seeds Is Odd, but by No Means a Bad Idea.

That absorbing desire to make some immediate practical use of everything, even though the labor expended is worth more than the whole result, has caused the introduction of many rather curious materials as decorative media.

The melon seed, however, stands respectfully among these materials, and when carefully manipulated its effects may be not only highly decorative, but really artistic. The dried seed, of course, is meant, and the sketches show ways in which it has been used in connection with beads. These designs are for borders hanging, for instance, at the lower portion of a velvet workbag or for introduction in anything which is usually pendant, because the whole point about melon seeds is that they must hang.

The little ball shape or disk shape bunches may easily be made by running the needle through the ends of a large number of seeds. On the other hand, if a smaller number were used they could be sewed close together at one end, and the outside ends could be threaded one after another on to a cotton and held in position by little knots.

To go into detail, for instance, in the case of the upper figure the process is as follows: First, our background is marked out with the design. The designs are, of course, not full size in the drawings. When the outlines are clearly put down, we start with the needle and stout thread by putting on one of the bunches of melon seeds; then a large knot; three small globular beads, a large pearl bead and a stitch into the material. This is the first which has been made. This point thoroughly secured to the background, five small beads and one large one threaded on, and another stitch is made in the material. Then eight small beads following the little scroll, then a stitch in the material between, say, every two, then a large bead, surrounded by smaller ones, with almost every alternate stitch through the material, in order to keep the decoration safely in place. Then a knot, and we start round the edge of the heart shape piece, and so on. In the borders of the second figure it is not necessary to stitch down to the background, especially if the weight of the beads at the diagonal lines, and especially below where the bunches of seeds are, is sufficient. In this the design is particularly graceful, and here the sewing will actually hang without any assistance from stitches, because the weight of them is pretty evenly distributed.

Picture Hanging.

In hanging pictures be careful that the screw eyes are put in sufficiently near the top of the frame to give only a very slight inclination forward. Like many other small matters in the arrangement of rooms, there is a distinct though generally unacknowledged sense of discomfort induced by the cross lines and differing angles, especially when many small pictures are hung together. It is, by the way, quite as much of a mistake to crowd pictures as anything else. A fair wall space around each one adds greatly to its effect.

Ice Cream and Muskmelon.

Ice cream is served in tiny melons about the size of an orange. A piece is cut from the top to serve as a cover. A narrow ribbon is passed through slits in this and tied in a bow upon the top as a means of lifting the cover.

ICE CREAM SERVED IN MUSKMELON.

The seeds are removed and the melons chilled on ice. When ready to serve, each is filled with ice cream and the cover put in place. Cream flavored with lemon and cinnamon slightly or flavored with vanilla and eaten with the pulp of the melon is considered an agreeable combination. The idea is not new, but dates back to the days when ice cream first came into fashion in this country, concludes the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

The New Woman

By...
Eliza Archard
Conner

It is well pleasing to note the increasing number of women going into newspaper work in the smaller cities of the Union. The daily papers in many of these smaller cities have really more genuine originality and scope than the great, many blanketed sheets, for all their fuss and feathers. On the journal of the small inland city there is more Americanism of sentiment, consequently less prejudice against women's occupying responsible places, than can be found in centers like New York and Chicago. Aspiring young women begin to find this out, and are knocking at the door of journalism in towns where it will be opened to them. It is pleasing, too, to note that many of these young women are college graduates, trained to write good English and to use their brains to think. To those who serve their apprenticeship faithfully in the country towns, if later they desire to hazard their fortunes in one of the great cities, the way will open. Portraits and sketches of the Misses Louise and Georgia Boynton, respectively editor in chief and business manager of a paper in Perth Amboy, N. J., have been widely published. The young ladies are both Vassar graduates. The paper was a weekly when they bought it. They changed it into a successful daily. In Titusville, Pa., a young lady—Miss Mary Lee—is city editor of a daily paper. She first worked her time as a general reporter, which is the natural road to newspaper promotion. Miss Lee watches every item of her local department till the paper goes to press at 2 in the morning. Many a time it is necessary for her to go out at night and get a hurried news story, which the nervous, brainy young woman does without the least hesitation and in perfect security.

A summer woods camp for girls has been suggested, where they may live in freedom and enjoy physical sports at will. Yes, but they will have a lot more fun to take fathers and brothers along—their own brothers, also some other girls' brothers.

The woman who tells like a slave and obeys like a slave will be rewarded like a slave.

A queer thing happened lately at Atlantic City. Miss Elsie Bernard, a strong and expert swimmer, was in the water off the pier. She was performing various water exploits, in one of which she threw up her hands. The life saver, who is always present to watch the swimmers, thought this motion of Miss Bernard was a signal for help. He snatched a buoy, and threw it toward her with such force that he threw himself along with it, and down he went into the sea, head first. He struck so hard that he was stunned and sank instantly. As quickly Miss Bernard, the magnificent girl swimmer, dived after him. She did not find him, came up to breathe and dived again. The second time she reached him, grasped him powerfully and brought him to the surface. There others relieved her of her burden and quickly restored the half drowned man. Thus a girl swimmer saved the life saver.

The acting secretary of the Boston Democratic committee is a woman, Miss Mary Meyer. She has been employed in the Democratic headquarters 17 years and knows more of the details of the office than any man does. In election times she has worked 48 hours without stopping. Yet probably not more than one in ten of all the men who know of her capability would be willing she should vote.

New York state and Norway are abreast of each other in their stage of development on the woman question. Each gives suffrage to property owning women on propositions to raise money by taxation.

Elizabeth R. Hoy is examiner in Latin for the New York board of state regents. She was appointed to her place through the state civil service commission.

Women, live outdoors all you can; get all the physical health and strength you can. Your brains and character force will develop in proportion, and you will be surprised at what you can do.

Mrs. Plank was a sweet, womanly, little woman, who made lace and embroidery, studied the fashion of her gowns, adored her husband and leaned upon him and twined around him quite in the manner the novelists paint. Of her husband's real life, of his business affairs, she knew no more than a blind kitten. The husband died suddenly. His gentle, childish wife is being robbed right and left and losing, as fast as time can trot, the money that ought to support her abundantly, all through being a sweet, ideal, leaning creature who knows no more of business than a babe three days old. Don't go and do likewise.

England has a coming woman animal palator, Miss Lucy Kemp-Welch.
